3 U.S. Medics Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology today for solving some of the basic riddles of heredity.

Their discoveries were credited by a member of the prize-awarding body with opening new avenues in cancer research.

The winners are Dr. George Wells Beadle, 55, of the California Institute of Technology; E. L. Tatum, 49, of New York's Rockefeller Institute; and Joshua Lederberg, 33, of the University of Wisconsin.

The Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine said half the $41,420 prize would go jointly to Beadle and Tatum "for their discovery that genes act by regulating specific chemical processes."

The other half went to Lederberg "for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria.

"Genetic recombination" is a term for sexual fertilization in the bacterial world. Lederberg found that from the geneticists' point of view, "this corresponds exactly to the normal sexual fertilization in higher organisms."

Describing the work of the prize winners, Prof. Torbjorn Caspersson of the Caroline Institute said the research of Beadle and Tatum in the early 1940s "led to the discovery that the individual gene acts by directing individual steps in the course of chemical synthesis in the cell. All the substances in the cell are built up step by step in a long series of synthesizing processes.

"The individual steps are governed by individual genes by their regulation of the production of specific enzymes for each separate step."

Three Western Nobel Prize-winning authors agreed today that Boris Pasternak turned down his 1958 award because of pressure from the Soviet government, not because he agreed with the Kremlin's condemnation of his work.

The 68-year-old Russian writer was awarded the $41,420 prize a week ago for his poetry and his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," which describes the loss of freedom in Soviet society. The novel is a best-seller in the West but has been suppressed in the Soviet Union.

Wednesday, after a government campaign of vilification in which the Nobel committee was accused of playing cold war politics, Pasternak cabled the Swedish Royal Academy of Letters that he was refusing the prize "because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in."

"Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will," he added.

Previously he had messaged that he was "immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed" by the honor.

France's Albert Camus, winner of the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature, commented, "I don't believe Pasternak refused the Nobel Prize of his own free will. . . ."

Earl Bertrand Russell, 86-year-old British philosopher who won the 1950 prize, said he was "disgusted with the Russians' attitude to this from the start. Knowing the Russian way of life as we do, we may well think that Pasternak had no alternative but to reject this prize."

He joined another Nobel winner, poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers Union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already has expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

Nixon Campaign Points Today To Corn Belt

Spokesmen for Both Parties Getting In Licks Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Nixon returned to the Corn Belt today as he headed west on his final bid for election of a Republican Congress in next Tuesday's voting.

Nixon, en route to a weekend of campaigning in Alaska, stopped overnight in Chicago before traveling to Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Wichita, Kan., today.

His Friday schedule takes him to Billings, Mont., and Everett, Wash., before he heads for Alaska. Voters of the prospective 49th state will name two U.S. senators and a representative in a special election Nov. 25.

Campaigning in California Wednesday night, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler renewed his suggestion that Democrats who won't support a civil rights plank in 1960 get out of the party.

Butler told a news conference at West Covina that Democrats who couldn't go along with such a plank should either stay in the party and try to put over their own viewpoint—or support a Republican ticket or a third-party movement or stay home and not vote.

At Greenwich, Conn., GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn ripped anew into what he called Democratic "radicals."

"Would you rather have government in the hands of the left-wing gang or see it in the hands of the Republican party?" he asked a GOP rally.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO appeared to hit mostly at Republican campaigners in telling a nationwide radio audience he wanted to "puncture the big labor political scare balloon of 1958."

But he mentioned neither parties nor candidates by name in assailing what he called campaign talk that organized labor is trying to take the nation down the road to socialism. Speaking from Washington, Meany said:

"The hidden purpose behind this cry of socialism, and such phrases as leading America 'down the left lane' is to plant in the minds of the American people the idea that labor is pro-Communist.

"This is an unforgivable and completely unjustified trick."

With the campaign going into its final days, President Eisenhower prepared to wind up his speechmaking with a nationwide radio-television talk in Baltimore Friday night.

The White House announced that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will vote Tuesday at Gettysburg, Pa., and then return to Washington to receive the election returns.

Cleveland Plant Ripped; 4 Men Listed as Dead

CLEVELAND (AP)—A sharp explosion ripped through a three-story brick factory building on the near East Side today. It killed four men, hurt eight others and sent waves of toxic smoke pouring from shattered windows.

Twenty-five firemen were overcome by the fumes, and were treated at nearby hospitals with oxygen.

Fire Chief Elmer Cain said the property loss at Erico Products, Inc., manufacturer of welding equipment, would be about $50,000. There was a brief flash of flame, but no further fire.

The cause was a matter of conjecture. Cain said one report was that a research worker was mixing chemicals at the scene shortly before the explosion.

The fumes came from materials used in the manufacturing process. Cain identified them as copper oxide and aluminum powder. They have a comparatively low ignition point and apparently were set off by the blast.

The dead, chemists and laborers, were identified as: William Ramsey, 66; Melvin Redjak, 35, Roland E. Turner and Nate Handle.

The company employs about 100, including 40 women.

Battalion Chief Bernard Mulcahy was among the firefighters treated at Charity Hospital after inhaling fumes.

Men and women who were led from the building were given oxygen by two rescue squads which hurried to the scene.

Chief Mulcahy said there was little fire following the blast, which showered glass and bricks onto Carnegie avenue.

Garland Fisher, 29, was treated for a cut on the forehead received when he was hit by a piece of glass. Two others given emergency treatment at Cleveland Clinic were reported suffering from glass cuts and smoke poisoning.

"I don't know what happened," Fisher said. "I was working in the stockroom when smoke suddenly came through the screen door. That's all I can remember."

Clyde Fabry, a stockroom foreman, was treated at the clinic for smoke inhalation.

Lou Gusiele, the plant's traffic manager, said he was seated at his desk when he saw a sudden flash followed by "a terrific explosion." He said the blast apparently was in the carpenter shop.

"I was knocked out of my chair," Gusiele added. "I can't imagine what exploded. The materials we work with are not combustible."

O'Neill, DiSalle In Vocal Tangle on Election Issues

Vote Tempo Jumps

Ohio's two candidates for governor Wednesday night stepped up the tempo of their campaigns.

In Cleveland, Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill asserted that Ohio voters next Tuesday will decide whether the state is to "be annexed to Michigan and become a satellite in the orbit of Hoffa, Reuther and Co."

At the same time, Democrat Michael V. DiSalle declared in Dayton that O'Neill's campaign is costing too much and that the governor's claims are not true.

DiSalle said that federal reports refute O'Neill's claim that Ohio is first in the nation in road-building and in its mental health program.

DiSalle said a report by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads places Ohio seventh in the interstate highway program in miles under construction and 17th in miles completed.

O'Neill's mental health program was planned and the funds provided by previous administrations, DiSalle said. He added that his personal investigations "have shown blatent cases of inhumane care in our mental program. . . ."

In a press conference at Port Columbus Airport in Columbus en route to Dayton DiSalle told reporters that O'Neill's campaign was "the most expensive and extravagant in Ohio's history."

DiSalle challenged O'Neill to join him in making their campaign contributions public before next Tuesday's election.

The Democratic candidate claimed that O'Neill has spent at least $430,000 a picnics, billboards, television time and mailing campaigns in his bid for re-election.

In his address DiSalle also criticized O'Neill for not extending jobless benefits until mid-September, and for holding up payment of supplemental unemployment benefits.

DiSalle also reiterated his charge that O'Neill's administration has been operating in the red.

"Surpluses accumulated in Gov. Lausche's administration have been diminished and artificial surpluses have been achieved through changes in bookkeeping procedures and administrative changes in collection of certain taxes," Di-

Westfall Levy Not Entirely New Mileage

The voters of Westfall School District will be voting Tuesday on a current operating levy of 3.5 mills for schools. The levy would be in effect for five years.

Voters are not to be confused by the wording on the ballot. The law provides that, since this is a new school district, the wording shall be "an additional 3.5 mills". The millage is not entirely new.

Compared to average amounts the old districts were paying in support of schools, only 1.3 mills are new. For current operation, 13.5 mills are necessary.

Under laws governing the establishment of a uniform tax rate in a newly consolidated district, 10 mills have already been established for current operating expenses.

THE DIFFERENCE between 13.5 mills and 10 mills or 3.5 mills must be voted by the people. A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage of the levy.

The total millage of 13.5 is still under the state average for schools in Ohio. The state average is 14.46 mills.

The extra millage of 1.3 is needed because of the rising costs in maintenance, textbooks, salaries, and general improvement of education in the district.

The 3.5 mills will bring in approximately $78,000. If the schools are to continue to provide educational privileges to the students, passage of the levy is necessary. The education of the 1,450 children of the district will be hindered if the levy should fail.

O-ville Citizens To Decide On Park Commission Question

Circleville voters will receive a small ballot Tuesday on the question "Shall there be a Board of Park Commissioners for the City of Circleville?"

The question is on the ballot for city voters as a beginning to improving operations and maintenance of the city's parks — mainly Ted Lewis Park.

No money is involved. The ballot merely will give Mayor Ben H. Gordon the right to appoint a three-member board which will govern the park.

The board will control and manage, have charge of all improvements, the acquisition, construction, repair and maintenance of the city's parks. It may adopt rules and regulations for the proper use and protection of the park property, may employe workers to carry on the program adopted by the board.

All moneys still will have to come from City Council's appropriations, but none can be spent without the approval of the park commissioners.

THE APPROVAL of a board of park commissioners is the first step in providing more adequate and tighter control over Ted Lewis Park. The approval of the issue will not cost city taxpayers a cent. The commissioners serve without compensation.

Today the Circleville Chamber of Commerce endorsed passage of the issue. President C. K. (Bill) Vaughan said that the passage of the question is a long step toward making the city's park efficient and beautiful.

He's Just Driving What He Picks Up While on His Job

After investigation, the officers arrested Samuel Kidd, 38, of Springfield on a charge of operating a vehicle in unsafe condition.

The officers reported the car had:

No stop lights.
No tail lights.
No license plate light.
No emergency brake.
Insufficient driving brakes.
A cracked windshield.
Two smooth tires.
Malfunctioning windshield wipers.
One headlight out.
No horn.

Kidd told the officers he was employed in a junk yard.

Lake Land Is Sold by State

Three deeds were delivered to the new owners of cottage sites at Indian Lake in the office of Col. Herbert B. Eagon, director of natural resources.

The sales were the first of hundreds. Most of the land will be sold to persons who have been leasing the land because under the law they have first choice on the property to be sold.

Most of the sales will be at Indian Lake and Buckeye Lake although some will be sold at the Portage Lakes, Grand Lake-Lake St. Marys, and Lake Loramie.

Turn of Events Prompts Apprehension of Suspects

An unusual turn of events for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department led to the apprehension of a man accused of forgery last night.

Held in jail here today is a man identified as John E. Dove, 22, Route 2, Blanchester. He is accused of forging at least three checks amounting to $900 here this week.

According to Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff, Doves apprehension almost turned out to be a wild-goose chase. However, a stroke of coincidence saved the day, the sheriff added.

After discovering that Dove's checks were not valid the sheriff and Deputy Dwight Radcliff initiated an immediate investigation.

ONE OF THE checks involved amounted to $800, made out to a local real estate firm. The check apparently was for some property which Dove agreed to purchase.

The other two checks were accepted by a local motel owner.

Early investigation revealed that Dove might have headed for Xenia after his exploits here. Sheriff Radcliff and Deputy Radcliff traveled to Xenia last night, but found no trace of Dove.

On the way back from Xenia, lawmen said a radio call from Fairfield County indicated that Dove's car was spotted in that county. However, it turned out that the car belonged to another man.

A break came a few minutes later when Lancaster Police radioed that Dove had been picked up in that city.

The sheriff traveled on to Lancaster, picked up Dove and returned here at about 4 a. m. Charges will be filed immediately, Radcliff said.

Papal Coronation Set for Tuesday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine Chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

Officials of the Vatican, meanwhile, were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church, it likely will be televised throughout Western Europe.

So far no coronation schedule has been announced.

12 Miners Trapped 6 Days in Pit Use Prayer, Songs To Hike Courage

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Twelve miners brought to the surface today after being trapped nearly a week in a wrecked coal mine told of praying and singing hymns to keep up their courage as they waited out the long, dark hours.

Some of the sturdier ones told of the ordeal after their dramatic rescue early today from the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine, where they were trapped by a massive earth shift last Thursday night.

The force of the shift tossed them against the roof of the tunnel where they were working more than two miles from the mine entrance.

Hugh Guthro, 31, said he was buried up to his chest but remained conscious. He said he knew some of his comrades were dying along the coal wall. Other miners dug him out.

The 12 found themselves trapped in a pocket 100 feet long and 3 feet high. By some miracle, there was no gas and some fresh air seeped in through the debris, Guthro said.

"At first we tried to dig our own way out but soon we got so weak we had to stop," he said. "We had no food and no water since Sunday or Monday. the last thing we ate were a few crusts of bread.

"We rationed our lights and cut some batteries off the dead men but on Monday we were in darkness. I'd say Caleb Rushton kept us going."

Rushton, 35, perhaps the strongest of the group when rescuers arrived, sang hymns.

The air gradually became bad. There was no room to stand. In their struggle to stay alive when the last water was gone, they drank urine mixed with bark, they told physicians.

By Monday the men had given up hope of being rescued. Hope also had been abandoned on the surface, but the rescue crews kept digging.

Then Wednesday rescue crews stumbled on a broken air pipe leading to the entombed men and heard the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37, say:

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us. Get us water."

Soon after the men got their first sustenance in at least four days. Coffee laced with sugar and vitamins was fed to the men through a copper tube inserted in the air pipe.

The men waited while the rescue crews dug through about 60 feet of debris. Then a hole appeared in the wall of rubble that had trapped the men and the rescuers appeared.

"We were all so happy to see them the whole bunch of us just started to cry," Guthro said.

The rescue raised hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths where 55 miners still are missing.

Their rescue brought to 93 the number saved. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered. There were 174 men below when disaster struck.

The news Wednesday that the 12 men had been located alive electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. Families came running to the mine in a drizzle of rain, hoping and fearing.

O'Neill, DiSalle In Hottest Race

The gubernatorial campaign between incumbent C. William O'Neill, Republican, and challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat, has been one of the most heated races ever staged in the 20th century.

DiSalle lost by more than 425,000 votes to O'Neill in 1956, but the Ohio Democrats had enough confidence in the former Toledo mayor to nominate him as their candidate by an overwhelming majority in the recent primary.

The issue that may decide the winner is the so-called Right To Work amendment that will be before the voters on the same November 4 ballot as the governor race.

O'Neill has come out in favor of the amendment and has vigorously attacked the gangster elements of the Labor Unions. DiSalle is opposed to the amendment, but has had little to say otherwise, in regards to the issue.

ANOTHER REASON the 1958 governor race has been so torrid is that fact that the winner will hold office for four years instead of the customary two-year term. The state Legislature passed this law in a recent session. The salary is $25,000 per year.

The governor's principal duties, as required by the State Constitution, include seeing that all laws are faithfully executed; communicating to the General Assembly, by message at every session, the condition of the State, and recommending measures that he considers desirable;

Convening extraordinary sessions of the General Assembly and determining the business of such sessions. He also has power to veto legislative acts (his veto may be overriden by three-fifths majority of each house) and possesses extensive powers of appointment and removal.

O'Neill, 42, is a 1934 graduate of Marietta High School. In 1938 he graduated from Marietta College with a B. A. degree and was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

He received his LL.B degree from the Ohio State University Law School in 1942. His former occupation, before politics, was attorney at law.

He is now serving his 20th year in public life, all in state government.

O'Neill served 12 years as a member of the Legislature. During that period of time he served two years as Republican Floor Leader of the Legislature and two years as Speaker of the House.

IN THE YEARS he served on the Legislature, O'Neill served on the finance, judiciary and rules committees. For six years the first term governor served as Attorney General of Ohio and during this period acted as vice president and president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General.

Michael V. DiSalle, 50, won out in a seven-candidate sweepstakes for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the May 6 primary.

It is the fourth statewide political contest for the attorney who was U. S. price czar in the late years of the Truman administration.

In 1950, DiSalle failed to win the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate. In 1952, he was the Democratic nominee for the Senate, but was unsuccessful in his bid to unseat Republican John W. Bricker. In 1956, he was the Democratic nominee for governor, but lost to Republican C. William O'Neill.

DiSalle was born in New York City, but he came to Ohio with his family at the age of three. He was reared in Toledo and attended the parochial and public schools. He completed his legal education at Georgetown University in 1931.

He was elected to the Ohio House in 1936 in his first bid for public office, but he was defeated in a race for the Ohio Senate in 1938. DiSalle holds honorary degrees from Notre Dame and Bridgeport Universities.

TEN YEARS later the Toledo City Council elected him mayor

Michael V. DiSalle (D)

(the city has a manager form of government). He started his second administration.

ond term in 1950, but on Dec. 12 of that year he was called by President Truman to direct the Office of Price Stabilization. He kept the post 15 months.

At present, DiSalle is a senior partner in a Toledo law firm. He was chairman of the Advisory Committee of the U. S. Conference of Mayors and was cited by Phi Sigma for excellence in government administration.

Turn of Events Prompts Apprehension of Suspects

An unusual turn of events for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department led to the apprehension of a man accused of forgery last night.

Held in jail here today is a man identified as John E. Dove, 22, Route 2, Blanchester. He is accused of forging at least three checks amounting to $900 here this week.

According to Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff, Doves apprehension almost turned out to be a wild-goose chase. However, a stroke of coincidence saved the day, the sheriff added.

After discovering that Dove's checks were not valid the sheriff and Deputy Dwight Radcliff initiated an immediate investigation.

ONE OF THE checks involved amounted to $800, made out to a local real estate firm. The check apparently was for some property which Dove agreed to purchase.

The other two checks were accepted by a local motel owner.

Early investigation revealed that Dove might have headed for Xenia after his exploits here. Sheriff Radcliff and Deputy Radcliff traveled to Xenia last night, but found no trace of Dove.

On the way back from Xenia, lawmen said a radio call from Fairfield County indicated that Dove's car was spotted in that county. However, it turned out that the car belonged to another man.

A break came a few minutes later when Lancaster Police radioed that Dove had been picked up in that city.

The sheriff traveled on to Lancaster, picked up Dove and returned here at about 4 a. m. Charges will be filed immediately, Radcliff said.

Papal Coronation Set for Tuesday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine Chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

Officials of the Vatican, meanwhile, were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church, it likely will be televised throughout Western Europe.

So far no coronation schedule has been announced.

Westfall Levy Not Entirely New Mileage

The voters of Westfall School District will be voting Tuesday on a current operating levy of 3.5 mills for schools. The levy would be in effect for five years.

Voters are not to be confused by the wording on the ballot. The law provides that, since this is a new school district, the wording shall be "an additional 3.5 mills". The millage is not entirely new.

Compared to average amounts the old districts were paying in support of schools, only 1.3 mills are new. For current operation, 13.5 mills are necessary.

Under laws governing the establishment of a uniform tax rate in a newly consolidated district, 10 mills have already been established for current operating expenses.

THE DIFFERENCE between 13.5 mills and 10 mills or 3.5 mills must be voted by the people. A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage of the levy.

The total millage of 13.5 is still under the state average for schools in Ohio. The state average is 14.46 mills.

The extra millage of 1.3 is needed because of the rising costs in maintenance, textbooks, salaries, and general improvement of education in the district.

The 3.5 mills will bring in approximately $78,000. If the schools are to continue to provide educational privileges to the students, passage of the levy is necessary. The education of the 1,450 children of the district will be hindered if the levy should fail.

O-ville Citizens To Decide On Park Commission Question

Circleville voters will receive a small ballot Tuesday on the question "Shall there be a Board of Park Commissioners for the City of Circleville?"

The question is on the ballot for city voters as a beginning to improving operations and maintenance of the city's parks — mainly Ted Lewis Park.

No money is involved. The ballot merely will give Mayor Ben H. Gordon the right to appoint a three-member board which will govern the park.

The board will control and manage, have charge of all improvements, the acquisition, construction, repair and maintenance of the city's parks. It may adopt rules and regulations for the proper use and protection of the park property, may employe workers to carry on the program adopted by the board.

All moneys still will have to come from City Council's appropriations, but none can be spent without the approval of the park commissioners.

THE APPROVAL of a board of park commissioners is the first step in providing more adequate and tighter control over Ted Lewis Park. The approval of the issue will not cost city taxpayers a cent. The commissioners serve without compensation.

Today the Circleville Chamber of Commerce endorsed passage of the issue. President C. K. (Bill) Vaughan said that the passage of the question is a long step toward making the city's park efficient and beautiful.

He's Just Driving What He Picks Up While on His Job

After investigation, the officers arrested Samuel Kidd, 38, of Springfield on a charge of operating a vehicle in unsafe condition.

The officers reported the car had:

No stop lights.
No tail lights.
No license plate light.
No emergency brake.
Insufficient driving brakes.
A cracked windshield.
Two smooth tires.
Malfunctioning windshield wipers.
One headlight out.
No horn.

Kidd told the officers he was employed in a junk yard.

Lake Land Is Sold by State

Three deeds were delivered to the new owners of cottage sites at Indian Lake in the office of Col. Herbert B. Eagon, director of natural resources.

The sales were the first of hundreds. Most of the land will be sold to persons who have been leasing the land because under the law they have first choice on the property to be sold.

Most of the sales will be at Indian Lake and Buckeye Lake although some will be sold at the Portage Lakes, Grand Lake-Lake St. Marys, and Lake Loramie.

O'Neill, DiSalle In Hottest Race

The gubernatorial campaign between incumbent C. William O'Neill, Republican, and challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat, has been one of the most heated races ever staged in the 20th century.

DiSalle lost by more than 425,000 votes to O'Neill in 1956, but the Ohio Democrats had enough confidence in the former Toledo mayor to nominate him as their candidate by an overwhelming majority in the recent primary.

The issue that may decide the winner is the so-called Right To Work amendment that will be before the voters on the same November 4 ballot as the governor race.

O'Neill has come out in favor of the amendment and has vigorously attacked the gangster elements of the Labor Unions. DiSalle is opposed to the amendment, but has had little to say otherwise, in regards to the issue.

ANOTHER REASON the 1958 governor race has been so torrid is that fact that the winner will hold office for four years instead of the customary two-year term. The state Legislature passed this law in a recent session. The salary is $25,000 per year.

The governor's principal duties, as required by the State Constitution, include seeing that all laws are faithfully executed; communicating to the General Assembly, by message at every session, the condition of the State, and recommending measures that he considers desirable;

Convening extraordinary sessions of the General Assembly and determining the business of such sessions. He also has power to veto legislative acts (his veto may be overriden by three-fifths majority of each house) and possesses extensive powers of appointment and removal.

O'Neill, 42, is a 1934 graduate of Marietta High School. In 1938 he graduated from Marietta College with a B. A. degree and was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

He received his LL.B degree from the Ohio State University Law School in 1942. His former occupation, before politics, was attorney at law.

He is now serving his 20th year in public life, all in state government.

O'Neill served 12 years as a member of the Legislature. During that period of time he served two years as Republican Floor Leader of the Legislature and two years as Speaker of the House.

IN THE YEARS he served on the Legislature, O'Neill served on the finance, judiciary and rules committees. For six years the first term governor served as Attorney General of Ohio and during this period acted as vice president and president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General.

Michael V. DiSalle, 50, won out in a seven-candidate sweepstakes for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the May 6 primary.

It is the fourth statewide political contest for the attorney who was U. S. price czar in the late years of the Truman administration.

In 1950, DiSalle failed to win the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senate. In 1952, he was the Democratic nominee for the Senate, but was unsuccessful in his bid to unseat Republican John W. Bricker. In 1956, he was the Democratic nominee for governor, but lost to Republican C. William O'Neill.

DiSalle was born in New York City, but he came to Ohio with his family at the age of three. He was reared in Toledo and attended the parochial and public schools. He completed his legal education at Georgetown University in 1931.

He was elected to the Ohio House in 1936 in his first bid for public office, but he was defeated in a race for the Ohio Senate in 1938. DiSalle holds honorary degrees from Notre Dame and Bridgeport Universities.

TEN YEARS later the Toledo City Council elected him mayor

Michael V. DiSalle (D)

(the city has a manager form of government). He started his second administration.

ond term in 1950, but on Dec. 12 of that year he was called by President Truman to direct the Office of Price Stabilization. He kept the post 15 months.

At present, DiSalle is a senior partner in a Toledo law firm. He was chairman of the Advisory Committee of the U. S. Conference of Mayors and was cited by Phi Sigma for excellence in government administration.

12 Miners Trapped 6 Days in Pit Use Prayer, Songs To Hike Courage

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Twelve miners brought to the surface today after being trapped nearly a week in a wrecked coal mine told of praying and singing hymns to keep up their courage as they waited out the long, dark hours.

Some of the sturdier ones told of the ordeal after their dramatic rescue early today from the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine, where they were trapped by a massive earth shift last Thursday night.

The force of the shift tossed them against the roof of the tunnel where they were working more than two miles from the mine entrance.

Hugh Guthro, 31, said he was buried up to his chest but remained conscious. He said he knew some of his comrades were dying along the coal wall. Other miners dug him out.

The 12 found themselves trapped in a pocket 100 feet long and 3 feet high. By some miracle, there was no gas and some fresh air seeped in through the debris, Guthro said.

"At first we tried to dig our own way out but soon we got so weak we had to stop," he said. "We had no food and no water since Sunday or Monday. the last thing we ate were a few crusts of bread.

"We rationed our lights and cut some batteries off the dead men but on Monday we were in darkness. I'd say Caleb Rushton kept us going."

Rushton, 35, perhaps the strongest of the group when rescuers arrived, sang hymns.

The air gradually became bad. There was no room to stand. In their struggle to stay alive when the last water was gone, they drank urine mixed with bark, they told physicians.

By Monday the men had given up hope of being rescued. Hope also had been abandoned on the surface, but the rescue crews kept digging.

Then Wednesday rescue crews stumbled on a broken air pipe leading to the entombed men and heard the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37, say:

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us. Get us water."

Soon after the men got their first sustenance in at least four days. Coffee laced with sugar and vitamins was fed to the men through a copper tube inserted in the air pipe.

The men waited while the rescue crews dug through about 60 feet of debris. Then a hole appeared in the wall of rubble that had trapped the men and the rescuers appeared.

"We were all so happy to see them the whole bunch of us just started to cry," Guthro said.

The rescue raised hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths where 55 miners still are missing.

Their rescue brought to 93 the number saved. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered. There were 174 men below when disaster struck.

The news Wednesday that the 12 men had been located alive electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. Families came running to the mine in a drizzle of rain, hoping and fearing.

Vandals at Work In This Area

Several cases of vandalism were reported in the city and county last night.

Sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Hugh Neff, W. Mill St., crashed into obstacles placed on the Island Road, about two miles west of Circleville. Officers said a tire was blown out with other possible damage caused to the auto.

Mrs. Lowell White, Marcy, reported that corn was thrown through a window of her home.

Birmingham Negroes Hit Bus Ruling

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of Negroes go into U.S. District Court today in an effort to have Birmingham's bus segregation ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The 22 Negroes who filed the suit against city officials and Birmingham Transit Co. were arrested in a mass demonstration against a bus segregation ordinance in December 1956.

Since then, city commissioners have repealed the ordinance which provided for separate seating of Negroes and white persons. But they replaced it with one making the transit company responsible for maintaining segregation.

The Negroes earlier this week filed an amendment to their court suit seeking to include the new ordinance. Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms will be asked to rule on the amendment before the hearing gets under way.

Grooms is expected to be asked to throw out the suit, since the original ordinance no longer exists.

Negro leaders have accused city officials of subterfuge in adopting the new ordinance, which authorizes bus drivers to assign seats, although the law makes no mention of race.

Signs on city buses ask Negro passengers to sit in rear seats, just as was the custom under the old bus segregation ordinance.

Soviet Physicists Proud of Big Prize

Ilya Frank, the third member of the trio given the prize for the joint discovery and explanation of the Cherenkov effect, is currently on vacation in the Crimea.

Cherenkov and Tamm said they would undoubtedly make the trip to Stockholm personally to accept the award and that they were certain Frank would go with them. The two seemed in high spirits.

A correspondent asking a question about a Soviet newspaper attack on writer Boris Pasternak said he and Cherenkov were at the press conference solely to discuss the physics award.

O'Neill . . .

Salle asserted. "If these conditions were presented as truth, instead of in a manner calculated to deceive the people of Ohio, then the record is one the governor should run from—not on."

The Marietta Republican compared Ohio and Michigan this way:

Per capita tax—Ohio $75; Michigan $94.

Unemployment — Ohio 5.4 per cent; Michigan 14 per cent.

Finances—Ohio 30 million dollars "unencumbered cash surplus;" Michigan "a staggering deficit."

"One of the first steps toward taking over Ohio by Hoffa and Reuther is to take over the Democratic Party as has happened in Michigan," O'Neill declared.

"The platform has already been adopted, the candidate has already backed them up on right-to-work and on their platform, and now thousands of dollars are being expended from union members' dues without their consent. and in many instances against their will, to put over the candidates and take over the party.

"That is not good for the Democrats in Ohio. It is not good for the Republicans, and it is not good for the state. Old line Democrats and conservative Democrats will find themselves out in the cold, without a party, because their leadership has done something it has refused always before to do in this state—that is—sold out to Hoffa, Reuther and Co. and their lieutenants in Ohio."

If the proposal to regulate union contracts passes, O'Neill said, "There may be some men who will accept the benefits and refuse to join, as there were a few gold bricks in the Army and as there are a few in all organizations who will not shoulder their full responsibility. But I say to you that the price of freedom may be a few free loaders, but the price of compulsion is dictatorship by Hoffa, Reuther and Co."

Pensioner, 90, Loses House, Keeps Home

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) —A 90-year-old man living alone on a meager pension lost his rural home at a sheriff's sale Wednesday. But the woman who bought it firmly told him he could live there until his death.

Miss Rose Farber was an unexpected bidder for the three-story stone house and 18 surrounding acres where Cadwallader Clegg has lived for 50 years.

Quietly announcing her bids, she finally got the home and land for $10,000. Clegg's creditor's bowed out at $9,700. Miss Farber said she represented a real estate investment company. She didn't say what the company plans to do with the rundown property.

But she told the men gathered at the county courthouse for the sale: "Mr. Clegg will be allowed to occupy the house as long as he lives."

It's not quite what Clegg wanted. He wanted to own the home in Lower Providence Township too. That was out of the question.

Thirteen years ago a car he was driving crashed into a motorcycle, injuring Robert H. Smith of Doylestown, Pa., and William Reiff of Kulpsville, Pa.

They brought suit in 1951. Smith won $18,000, Reiff $1,860. Interest now has increased the total to $28,360. Miss Farber's purchase is subject to this judgment and any other liens.

Clegg was unable to meet the claim, much less the mounting interest. The retired machinist, a widower, has only a $54-a month social security pension, barely enough to feed himself, his dog and his two cats.

Next-to-Last U. S. A-Test Blasts Through Top of Mesa

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —The biggest underground atomic explosion ever touched off by the United States blasted up through the top of a mesa today and shot a column of dirt more than 1,000 feet into the air.

The shot rocked the ground where newsmen were stationed 4½ miles away and shook large boulders off the edge of the mesa.

The completion of this test in a tunnel left just one more to go today before the test deadline set by President Eisenhower at midnight tonight.

Actually the deadline will be 4 p.m. here because that will be midnight, Greenwich time. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union.

The underground explosion, Blanca, was touched off in a tunnel that had dug 2,600 feet into the side of a mound and under a mesa.

The great column of dirt that spewed up, probably 500 feet thick, began subsiding five minutes later and drifting away.

This explosion was rated as having the force of 20,000 tons of TNT, the same power as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan in World War II. This force is equal to that of a 40-car trainload of TNT.

Windup of testing brought sadness to Atomic Energy Commission scientists and officials.

Col. Ernest Tinson, technical director of Defense Department participation in atomic tests, said: "Lots of us who have been in it a long time sure hate to see today be the end."

When the last of the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory's test weapons was detonated Wednesday night, "Taps" sounded over a loud-speaker at News Nob observation point.

This series has operated on the most stepped-up schedule of any ever conducted here in order to beat the suspension deadline. Three weapons were exploded on two separate days—the first time this had ever been done here.

Five shots were scheduled Wednesday but two had to be held over until today.

Bricker, Young Woo Cleveland

Senator's Record Hit While Flemming Lauds

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's two candidates for a seat in the U.S. Senate, incumbent John W. Bricker and Democrat Stephen M. Young, are campaigning in highly-populated Cleveland today.

In the big city Wednesday night, Young declared that the Republican senator is trying to make political hay of his membership on the congressional atomic energy committee but "actively participated in only 8 of the 36 most important hearing sessions during the last Congress."

Bricker was absent entirely from more than half these hearings, Young added.

"To top this all off," said Young, Cleveland Democrat who hopes to thwart Bricker's bid for a third term, the senator "is on record as opposing President Eisenhower's atoms-for - peace proposal. How reckless can he get?"

Young again hit at Bricker for his stand during the St. Lawrence Seaway controversy.

Every Ohioan in Congress voted for the seaway except Bricker, Young said. "They were all out of step—all the other congressmen—except John. His vote was shocking, shameful and astonishing. It was a vote against every working man in Ohio because the seaway is going to mean jobs."

Meanwhile, Wednesday, a Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter tried to pin down Sen. Frank J. Lausche on the Bricker-Young contest.

Lausche, who said he has finished his participation in this year's campaign after several appearances with Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, replied:

"I've known Steve Young many years. He is an able, honest and experienced person, period. That's all I have to say."

Bricker arrived here Wednesday night after appearing in Columbus and Toledo.

At a meeting of 300 Republican fund-raisers, he got a strong boost from Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, U. S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. Flemming, former Ohio Wesleyan University president, mentioned only Bricker and Gov. C. William O'Neill by name in urging hard work to elect the entire GOP ticket.

"President Eisenhower needs Sen. Bricker," the cabinet member said. "The members of President Eisenhower's cabinet need Sen. Bricker.

"The Republican Party needs Sen. Bricker as it girds itself for the 1960 presidential campaign — a campaign that will undoubtedly determine the future course of our

Stock Prices Churn Near All-Time High

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices churned near their all-time high in heavy trading early this afternoon. Gains and losses of fractions to a point or so prevailed among leading issues.

The market was strong at the start with steels and motors setting the pace. First-hour volume was 1,100,000 shares, one of the best this year. The ticker tape ran late.

The improving trend of corporate reports and renewed optimism pushed the market toward high ground. Precautionary profit taking halted the advance.

Among encouraging reports was news that incoming orders of manufacturing firms in September topped the year-earlier level for the first time in 1958.

U.S. Steel and General Motors, which reported an encouraging earnings trend this week, were up fractions on big blocks at the start. GM remained ahead but U.S. Steel erased the gain and showed a net loss of around a point.

Many other popular issues canceled gains and showed minus signs. But plenty of gainers remained.

Ahead a point or more were Lukens Steel, Boeing, Goodyear, Goodrich and Loew's. Consolidated Coppermines remained ahead about a point while Cerro de Pasco erased a fractional gain following word the latter plans to acquire Consolidated.

Parmelee fell about four and Checker Motors more than three as the Checker president denied rumored plans to sell taxicab licenses held by affiliated companies.

American Motors was off about a point.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower.

Halloweeners Set For Dash Home

WHITINGHAM, Vt. (AP)—The Wilmington - Jacksonville Lions Club said today it will pay $1 to children who head straight home from its "Small Fry Halloween Party" Friday night.

Club members will telephone the homes of youngsters who attended the party. If they are there to answer the phone in person, the club will pay off.

"Maybe it will cost a little money, but we want to get our youngsters off the streets," Rene Stebbins, a club member working on the Halloween plan, said.

O'Neill . . .

Salle asserted. "If these conditions were presented as truth, instead of in a manner calculated to deceive the people of Ohio, then the record is one the governor should run from—not on."

The Marietta Republican compared Ohio and Michigan this way:

Per capita tax—Ohio $75; Michigan $94.

Unemployment — Ohio 5.4 per cent; Michigan 14 per cent.

Finances—Ohio 30 million dollars "unencumbered cash surplus;" Michigan "a staggering deficit."

"One of the first steps toward taking over Ohio by Hoffa and Reuther is to take over the Democratic Party as has happened in Michigan," O'Neill declared.

"The platform has already been adopted, the candidate has already backed them up on right-to-work and on their platform, and now thousands of dollars are being expended from union members' dues without their consent. and in many instances against their will, to put over the candidates and take over the party.

"That is not good for the Democrats in Ohio. It is not good for the Republicans, and it is not good for the state. Old line Democrats and conservative Democrats will find themselves out in the cold, without a party, because their leadership has done something it has refused always before to do in this state—that is—sold out to Hoffa, Reuther and Co. and their lieutenants in Ohio."

If the proposal to regulate union contracts passes, O'Neill said, "There may be some men who will accept the benefits and refuse to join, as there were a few gold bricks in the Army and as there are a few in all organizations who will not shoulder their full responsibility. But I say to you that the price of freedom may be a few free loaders, but the price of compulsion is dictatorship by Hoffa, Reuther and Co."

Next-to-Last U. S. A-Test Blasts Through Top of Mesa

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —The biggest underground atomic explosion ever touched off by the United States blasted up through the top of a mesa today and shot a column of dirt more than 1,000 feet into the air.

The shot rocked the ground where newsmen were stationed 4½ miles away and shook large boulders off the edge of the mesa.

The completion of this test in a tunnel left just one more to go today before the test deadline set by President Eisenhower at midnight tonight.

Actually the deadline will be 4 p.m. here because that will be midnight, Greenwich time. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union.

The underground explosion, Blanca, was touched off in a tunnel that had dug 2,600 feet into the side of a mound and under a mesa.

The great column of dirt that spewed up, probably 500 feet thick, began subsiding five minutes later and drifting away.

This explosion was rated as having the force of 20,000 tons of TNT, the same power as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan in World War II. This force is equal to that of a 40-car trainload of TNT.

Windup of testing brought sadness to Atomic Energy Commission scientists and officials.

Col. Ernest Tinson, technical director of Defense Department participation in atomic tests, said: "Lots of us who have been in it a long time sure hate to see today be the end."

When the last of the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory's test weapons was detonated Wednesday night, "Taps" sounded over a loud-speaker at News Nob observation point.

This series has operated on the most stepped-up schedule of any ever conducted here in order to beat the suspension deadline. Three weapons were exploded on two separate days—the first time this had ever been done here.

Five shots were scheduled Wednesday but two had to be held over until today.

Bricker, Young Woo Cleveland

Senator's Record Hit While Flemming Lauds

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's two candidates for a seat in the U.S. Senate, incumbent John W. Bricker and Democrat Stephen M. Young, are campaigning in highly-populated Cleveland today.

In the big city Wednesday night, Young declared that the Republican senator is trying to make political hay of his membership on the congressional atomic energy committee but "actively participated in only 8 of the 36 most important hearing sessions during the last Congress."

Bricker was absent entirely from more than half these hearings, Young added.

"To top this all off," said Young, Cleveland Democrat who hopes to thwart Bricker's bid for a third term, the senator "is on record as opposing President Eisenhower's atoms-for - peace proposal. How reckless can he get?"

Young again hit at Bricker for his stand during the St. Lawrence Seaway controversy.

Every Ohioan in Congress voted for the seaway except Bricker, Young said. "They were all out of step—all the other congressmen—except John. His vote was shocking, shameful and astonishing. It was a vote against every working man in Ohio because the seaway is going to mean jobs."

Vandals at Work In This Area

Several cases of vandalism were reported in the city and county last night.

Sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Hugh Neff, W. Mill St., crashed into obstacles placed on the Island Road, about two miles west of Circleville. Officers said a tire was blown out with other possible damage caused to the auto.

Mrs. Lowell White, Marcy, reported that corn was thrown through a window of her home.

Birmingham Negroes Hit Bus Ruling

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of Negroes go into U.S. District Court today in an effort to have Birmingham's bus segregation ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The 22 Negroes who filed the suit against city officials and Birmingham Transit Co. were arrested in a mass demonstration against a bus segregation ordinance in December 1956.

Since then, city commissioners have repealed the ordinance which provided for separate seating of Negroes and white persons. But they replaced it with one making the transit company responsible for maintaining segregation.

The Negroes earlier this week filed an amendment to their court suit seeking to include the new ordinance. Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms will be asked to rule on the amendment before the hearing gets under way.

Grooms is expected to be asked to throw out the suit, since the original ordinance no longer exists.

Negro leaders have accused city officials of subterfuge in adopting the new ordinance, which authorizes bus drivers to assign seats, although the law makes no mention of race.

Signs on city buses ask Negro passengers to sit in rear seats, just as was the custom under the old bus segregation ordinance.

Soviet Physicists Proud of Big Prize

Ilya Frank, the third member of the trio given the prize for the joint discovery and explanation of the Cherenkov effect, is currently on vacation in the Crimea.

Cherenkov and Tamm said they would undoubtedly make the trip to Stockholm personally to accept the award and that they were certain Frank would go with them. The two seemed in high spirits.

A correspondent asking a question about a Soviet newspaper attack on writer Boris Pasternak said he and Cherenkov were at the press conference solely to discuss the physics award.

Typhoon Now Heading Toward Okinawa Area

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Lorna, packing maximum 100 m. p. h. winds near the center, veered from the Philippines toward Okinawa today, leaving possibly seven dead and at least 1½ million dollars in damage to crops and property. Hardest hit in the Philippines was the Bicol region in southern Luzon.

Stolen Goods Found At Wife's Parents

Stolen government propertly allegedly taken by Richard R. Swank, 20, Route 2, Ashville, was recovered at the home of Swank's wife's parents instead of the wife's home as previously reported.

The loot, part of a large amount of material taken from Ft. Hayes, Columbus, was recovered here by Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Pensioner, 90, Loses House, Keeps Home

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) —A 90-year-old man living alone on a meager pension lost his rural home at a sheriff's sale Wednesday. But the woman who bought it firmly told him he could live there until his death.

Miss Rose Farber was an unexpected bidder for the three-story stone house and 18 surrounding acres where Cadwallader Clegg has lived for 50 years.

Quietly announcing her bids, she finally got the home and land for $10,000. Clegg's creditor's bowed out at $9,700. Miss Farber said she represented a real estate investment company. She didn't say what the company plans to do with the rundown property.

But she told the men gathered at the county courthouse for the sale: "Mr. Clegg will be allowed to occupy the house as long as he lives."

It's not quite what Clegg wanted. He wanted to own the home in Lower Providence Township too. That was out of the question.

Thirteen years ago a car he was driving crashed into a motorcycle, injuring Robert H. Smith of Doylestown, Pa., and William Reiff of Kulpsville, Pa.

They brought suit in 1951. Smith won $18,000, Reiff $1,860. Interest now has increased the total to $28,360. Miss Farber's purchase is subject to this judgment and any other liens.

Clegg was unable to meet the claim, much less the mounting interest. The retired machinist, a widower, has only a $54-a month social security pension, barely enough to feed himself, his dog and his two cats.

Circleville, County Set For Halloween

Tonight Circleville and Pickaway County will celebrate Halloween with the Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce sponsored parade and UNICEF trick or treat night sponsored by 11 area churches.

The Halloween Parade will start at 8 p. m. in front of the City Police station on W. Franklin St. The Circleville High School band and American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will provide the musical entertainment.

The parade will march through the downtown section of Circleville and end at Ted Lewis Park. Judging of costumes and prizes will be awarded after the parade, at the park.

The UNICEF drive will be accomplished by children trick or treating for pennies from area homes. Every penny donated will be used for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Halloweeners Set For Dash Home

WHITINGHAM, Vt. (AP)—The Wilmington - Jacksonville Lions Club said today it will pay $1 to children who head straight home from its "Small Fry Halloween Party" Friday night.

Club members will telephone the homes of youngsters who attended the party. If they are there to answer the phone in person, the club will pay off.

"Maybe it will cost a little money, but we want to get our youngsters off the streets," Rene Stebbins, a club member working on the Halloween plan, said.

The Bench Needs Ammer

The Circleville Herald today endorses William Ammer for election as Common Pleas Judge of Pickaway County.

Once in a great while a candidate comes along with integrity, ability and efficiency. When a person with those attributes runs for public office, it is a tragedy if he is not elected.

Too often we hear that the top men in each profession will not run for public office. The work is hard, pay is low and the pressures are stifling. We really don't blame them.

In William Ammer we have a candidate who is eager to meet the challenge of a vital public position. He is honest, can run his office with efficiency and ability. He's proved it in the 18 months he has been judge of the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

'Bill' Ammer is a native of Circleville. He has lived in Pickaway County throughout his lifetime, with short times out for service with the Armed Forces and work with the state in Columbus. He lives here today.

He knows the problems of this particular city and county. He has the welfare of Pickaway County at heart. He is completely fair on the bench.

His fellow attorneys, the Pickaway County Bar Assn., both Republicans and Democrats, have given Bill Ammer their endorsement. We feel we must endorse him also.

DuPont Off Top Munitions List

Time was when the Du Pont firm was the target of every pacifist and anti-war group as one of the munitions makers who allegedly profited from wars. That naive accusation was exploded long ago, and it is interesting to find that Du Pont has now lost even the distinction of being among the top munitions makers in the nation.

In fact, Du Pont has dropped completely out of the list of the top 100 companies in terms of gross orders from the Pentagon. This is because of a reduction in military orders for small arms, chemical products and assorted other conventional items.

At the top now is General Dynamics, with $1.1 billion in orders for newfangled armament ranging from atomic submarines to ballistic missiles and supersonic aircraft. The company's advance in rank is symptomatic of the new emphasis on rocketry and other nuclear-space age gadgetry.

Boeing advanced from fifth rank on a previous list to fourth place now among the defense contractors, with $637.9 million in Pentagon orders.

Thus has war changed with Du Pont completely off the list which it once dominated.

Ah, but England Has Revenge

By Hal Boyle

LONDON (AP)—It is the day of the season's biggest international soccer game, between England and the Soviet Union.

The typical British fan, who digs ditches for the Borough Council, has no ticket. If he is going to go, he will have to get one from a scalper at Wembley Stadium. The fan has assured himself he can afford neither a ticket nor the loss of a day's work. He will not go.

But shortly after noon he crams himself into a subway train along with hundreds of his peers, Wembly bound.

Along the parade way leading from the subway station to the stadium a religious organization has posted several signs. They read, in order: "Sin Is a Reproach to Any People," "All Have Sinned," "The Coming of the Lord Draweth Nigh" and "Prepare To Meet Thy God."

By the time he gets to the stadium the fan is in starting condition for a disaster.

He approaches a ticket scalper who demands 10 shillings—$1.40—for a three-shilling sixpence—50 cents—ticket to standing room in Section D, far behind one of the goals.

The fan ripostes with an offer of seven shillings sixpence—$1.05—which is refused with hauteur. The fan forks over 10 shillings and wends his way to Section D.

By game time the concrete terraces of Section D are so crammed with people the fan would be unable to fall down if he fainted. He is screened from the playing field by a phalanx of men seven feet tall.

From time to time there is a roar from the crowd. The fan assumes something is happening but is unable to confirm it visually. At halftime a kindly policeman informs everybody England is leading 1 to 0.

The fan badly needs a drink. He is afraid to go down to the bar for fear he would be unable to wedge himself back into Section D. The queue would be too long for him to get waited on anyway. Besides, all the money he has left is his car fare home.

As the game proceeds the cold creeps up from the cement through the fan's shoes all the way to his knees. He feels awful. He would leave early and avoid the crowd, but he knows he will never make it through the massed bodies.

After an eon the final whistle blows. The fan is extruded through the exit like toothpaste from a tube. He waits on the chilly subway platform nearly an hour before he can push into a train.

Tottering with fatigue he reaches home and turns on the radio. He learns that England has won, 5 to 0.

He will have to do without beer or cigarettes until payday.

He feels wonderful. He has been present, with 99,000 others, when England avenged the defeat which knocked them out of the world soccer cup in Stockholm last summer.

Talent . . . New U.S. Heroes

By George Sokolsky

The role of our universities in developing services to the country is often neglected in the broader discussion of why freshmen cannot spell and seniors do not think. After seeing a flock of young ladies who have majored in this or that and none of whom have any clear concept of why they went to college, it is some satisfaction to have a look at the enormous services of the major universities in the broader fields of knowledge.

I happened to be glancing through the record of George B. Pegram, Dean of the Graduate Faculties of Columbia University. Dean Pegram died last summer and, of course, that event did not make much noise, hardly as much as the passing of a beladied auto-racer, but in the history of the development of the use of atomic energy, the role played by Dean Pegram is extraordinarily significant.

He made the first contact with the United States Government in March 1939 which eventually resulted in the establishment of the Manhattan Project which produced the atom bomb. It was under his direction that early in 1939, Dr. John R. Dunning and Dr. Enrico Fermi of the Columbia Physics Department planned to demonstrate the energy released by uranium fission. This was done on January 25, 1939 by the creation of 100,000,000 electron volts from a shattered atom on Columbia University's cyclotron.

The date is significant because this was done before there was any World War II, purely as a scientific experiment. In fact, Dean Pegram notified the Navy that this had been done at Columbia and the reason that he notified the Navy is that it occurred to him that these scientists had probably found the answer to the fuel problem of submarines. He wrote: "The space problem might be licked by the use of atomic energy, and this fuel would not require oxygen."

Later that year, Alexander Sachs, who was then an economist in Wall Street and a brilliant mathematician, went to President Roosevelt with a letter from Albert Einstein to explain to the President the significance of nuclear physics. The President became immensely interested and appointed an Advisory Committee on Uranium with Dr. Pegram as chairman. This became the famous SI Committee which served throughout the war to advise the government and from which the Manhattan Project received its scientific impetus.

Before this country went to war, Dean Pegram went to England to see whether the atom bomb could be developed there. He returned to this country, convinced that it had to be an American job. At Columbia, apart from Pegram, Dunning and Urey, Fermi, Szilard, Anderson, Zinn, Weil, Feld and others were already at work on this and other scientific projects which in time were translated into instruments for the defense of the United States.

Work similar to this is going on in universities all the time by unpublicized scholars who do not ask for much return from anyone for the wonderful work they are doing. They do not receive great salaries. They do not sport wealth in the night clubs of big cities.

Occasionally one such will get a Nobel Prize or an honorary degree and his picture will be printed in a newspaper, but generally such men seek no great honors or rewards. Their accomplishments are written in the history of the human race.

In the United States where the possession of money used to be the mark of success, more and more, we are turning to those who possess great talent and whose services are not measurable in money. Nobody, for instance, can measure the worth of the life of Dean Pegram of whom it can be said that he brought together a galaxy of scientists and made it possible for our nation to avail itself of their services. Many of them are not now at Columbia but have gone to other universities or are working for the government.

America's search for talent must give us altogether different values in appraising human beings and perhaps in rewarding them. The scientists who in 1939 thought that they had discovered a fuel for a submarine could not have appreciated that by 1958, their ideas would prove so correct that the "Nautilus" went under the ice-cap at the North Pole in one of the most amazing voyages of exploration in human history.

These are the heroes of American life in our times.

"Will you PLEASE stop introducing me as your second fiddle?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE EDITOR of the Columbia Jester reports the receipt of this message from a valued old Indian friend in New Mexico: "You funny white people really seem to have perfected hydrogen bombs, and I am sure one day some crazy fool will begin to toss them around. Since you already have managed to crowd most of yourselves into uncomfortable, sunless cities, each bomb dropped should kill a couple million of you. When enough white people are killed, we will beat the daylights out of you, and take back the country you stole from us. Best regards, Chief You-know-who."

A young machinist and his bride, honeymooning on the shore of a New Hampshire lake, were caught in a canoe in a sudden, violent squall. The machinist, scared within an inch of his life, resorted to prayer. "Save us," he implored, "and I vow to give up smoking, drinking, gambling—"

"Don't go too far," interrupted his bride hastily. "I think I hear a motorboat coming to rescue us."

Are You a Safe Drinker?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

How much can you drink —safely?

I'm speaking, of course, about that social lubricant, alcoholic beverages.

Now it is impossible to set down any hard and fast rules which will govern everybody. Your capacity may be considerably over or under that of the next fellow.

However, we can take an average, and most of you can be governed pretty well by that.

On the average, a person achieves the optimum stage when he drinks about one ounce of whiskey. This much alcohol starts to remove a few of his inhibitions and, as a rule, makes him feel relaxed, at least for the time being.

Again, on the average, a person can metabolize one - half to one ounce of alcohol per hour. By maintaining this rate, the feeling of wellbeing can be continued.

But many persons aren't satisfied at this relatively slow rate of drinking. They try to insure or increase this rosy feeling by consuming another drink before the previous one has been burned up.

Naturally, the alcohol accumulates in the blood. As this alcoholic concentration increases, the drinker becomes even more gay, much more. He becomes loud, he may even stagger, and he fumbles. In other words, he is drunk.

Therefore, from one-half to one ounce of alcohol per hour (for a maximum of a couple of hours) is just about the safest way to drink for most of you who feel that you must drink.

I would like to emphasize that even one drink to too much for anyone who is driving.

The secret of drinking is to use both your judgment and your body. You judge how much your body can accommodate and then permit your body to consume the alcohol from the first drink before you take another.

Not many are going to become intoxicated at this rate. A person usually becomes drunk when he follows one drink immediately with another and another and another. This is when the real trouble begins.

He becomes an alcoholic when he is unable to control his own compulsion.

Please don't misconstrue this column as my permission for all of you to drink alcoholic beverages. But for those of you who do drink, this, I think, is the safest way to do it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, determinedly striving to push the Republican elephant into a stretch gallop, has found the going heavy and the footing slippery.

The durable Nixon was showing fatigue and irritability when he stopped here between tours ths week. He had taken some rude blows. He was obliged to defend and explain the damaging words and actions of other Republicans. And he had seen new threats develop to his own political future.

His temper frayed out in Minneapolis, where he barked an angry denial to a charge that hadn't been made—that he had avoided a stand on civil rights. Earlier, in Chicago, he had glared at a photographer who miscalled him "Mr. Truman." The impolitic glare was captured on film.

As the vice president took off Wednesday for a final grueling, hop-skipping tour to Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Washington state and Alaska, it seemed to some of his supporters that sheer bad luck was dogging his footsteps.

For Nixon, a record of success in this campaign is important to his own presidential aspratons n 1960. Any outcome short of a Democratc sweep could be credited partly, at least, to his talents as a vote-getter.

Certainly his efforts have helped to revive dispirited Republican organizations n many spots. Further, he has helped to add more than a mllion dollars to GOP finances by his fund-raising appearances and his personal efforts.

But there was still doubt whether any significant shift in voter sentiment has been wrought by Nixon or by President Eisenhower in their strong attacks on "radical" and "spendthrift" opponents.

An Associated Press check across the country indicated that neither the Republican headliners nor their opposite Democratic numbers, former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, had changed the minds of many voters.

So it was uncertain whether, as Nixon proclaimed in Lincoln, Neb. and elsewhere, the GOP has rebounded from what looked like sure defeat and that the campaign has become a brand new contest.

Neither Nixon nor Eisenhower, it became apparent has succeeded in healing the seemingly ruinous split of the top California Republicans, Sen. Wlliam F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwn Knight. The intraparty bitterness could do nothing but damage to Nixon's party in Nixon's state — and to Nixon's prestige as a leader of the state GOP organization.

And suddenly an alarm bell rang in a state which may be even more vital to Nixon's 1960 aspirations. The political pollsters decided that personable Nelson Rockefeller has edged to the fore in the New York governorship race against Gov. Averell Harriman. All Republicans could cheer, but what would the emergence of this new political phenomenon do to Nixon's chances for the nomination two years hence?

Rockefeller's gains owed nothing to Nixon. Would a Rockefeller victory give the party a potential new standard-bearer?

Other incidents plagued Nixon. The Gallup poll people issued a late-campaign report; it spoke of a Democratic landslide How come this, asked reporters, if Nixon's optimism was justified? Nixon said that hard work could change the outcome, and that the poll results already were outdated.

And why ddn't Eisenhower—or if not the President, somebody else at the White House—receive the leaders of the thousands of Negro and white students who staged a pro-integration rally in Washington last Saturday? Nixon's associates did not disguise their view that the White House had goofed.

And why did Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) haveto choose this crucial fortnight to remark that "on Nov. 5 Dick Nixon will assume the mantle of leadership of the Republican party?" Nixon, who has tried to keep his own aspirations out of this campaign, denied it.

The vice president is a fighter who fights hardest when the battle is roughest. He'll be punching, right up to election day. But if he didn't know before, he must now realize that the tides of politics are treacherous indeed.

Submarines as big as cruisers, are predicted by a U. S. Navy Commander in an address before a sub school graduating class. What a whale of a fighting ship that would make!

Dear Editor:

A recent political ad which appeared in "The Circleville Herald" stated, "in the recent audit of the Auditor's Office that it has been run in a very efficient and economical manner."

To our knowledge there has been no audit of the courthouse since 1956. If there has been a recent audit made of the Auditors Office we are wondering why this special or recent audit was necessary.

We also feel it is only in the line of duty as an office official to run their office in a very efficient manner. If any citizen would examine the books and routine of the other offices, they would find they are operated just as efficient and economical as the auditor's office.

The Bench Needs Ammer

The Circleville Herald today endorses William Ammer for election as Common Pleas Judge of Pickaway County.

Once in a great while a candidate comes along with integrity, ability and efficiency. When a person with those attributes runs for public office, it is a tragedy if he is not elected.

Too often we hear that the top men in each profession will not run for public office. The work is hard, pay is low and the pressures are stifling. We really don't blame them.

In William Ammer we have a candidate who is eager to meet the challenge of a vital public position. He is honest, can run his office with efficiency and ability. He's proved it in the 18 months he has been judge of the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

'Bill' Ammer is a native of Circleville. He has lived in Pickaway County throughout his lifetime, with short times out for service with the Armed Forces and work with the state in Columbus. He lives here today.

He knows the problems of this particular city and county. He has the welfare of Pickaway County at heart. He is completely fair on the bench.

His fellow attorneys, the Pickaway County Bar Assn., both Republicans and Democrats, have given Bill Ammer their endorsement. We feel we must endorse him also.

DuPont Off Top Munitions List

Time was when the Du Pont firm was the target of every pacifist and anti-war group as one of the munitions makers who allegedly profited from wars. That naive accusation was exploded long ago, and it is interesting to find that Du Pont has now lost even the distinction of being among the top munitions makers in the nation.

In fact, Du Pont has dropped completely out of the list of the top 100 companies in terms of gross orders from the Pentagon. This is because of a reduction in military orders for small arms, chemical products and assorted other conventional items.

At the top now is General Dynamics, with $1.1 billion in orders for newfangled armament ranging from atomic submarines to ballistic missiles and supersonic aircraft. The company's advance in rank is symptomatic of the new emphasis on rocketry and other nuclear-space age gadgetry.

Boeing advanced from fifth rank on a previous list to fourth place now among the defense contractors, with $637.9 million in Pentagon orders.

Thus has war changed with Du Pont completely off the list which it once dominated.

Ah, but England Has Revenge

By Hal Boyle

LONDON (AP)—It is the day of the season's biggest international soccer game, between England and the Soviet Union.

The typical British fan, who digs ditches for the Borough Council, has no ticket. If he is going to go, he will have to get one from a scalper at Wembley Stadium. The fan has assured himself he can afford neither a ticket nor the loss of a day's work. He will not go.

But shortly after noon he crams himself into a subway train along with hundreds of his peers, Wembly bound.

Along the parade way leading from the subway station to the stadium a religious organization has posted several signs. They read, in order: "Sin Is a Reproach to Any People," "All Have Sinned," "The Coming of the Lord Draweth Nigh" and "Prepare To Meet Thy God."

By the time he gets to the stadium the fan is in starting condition for a disaster.

He approaches a ticket scalper who demands 10 shillings—$1.40—for a three-shilling sixpence—50 cents—ticket to standing room in Section D, far behind one of the goals.

The fan ripostes with an offer of seven shillings sixpence—$1.05—which is refused with hauteur. The fan forks over 10 shillings and wends his way to Section D.

By game time the concrete terraces of Section D are so crammed with people the fan would be unable to fall down if he fainted. He is screened from the playing field by a phalanx of men seven feet tall.

From time to time there is a roar from the crowd. The fan assumes something is happening but is unable to confirm it visually. At halftime a kindly policeman informs everybody England is leading 1 to 0.

The fan badly needs a drink. He is afraid to go down to the bar for fear he would be unable to wedge himself back into Section D. The queue would be too long for him to get waited on anyway. Besides, all the money he has left is his car fare home.

As the game proceeds the cold creeps up from the cement through the fan's shoes all the way to his knees. He feels awful. He would leave early and avoid the crowd, but he knows he will never make it through the massed bodies.

After an eon the final whistle blows. The fan is extruded through the exit like toothpaste from a tube. He waits on the chilly subway platform nearly an hour before he can push into a train.

Tottering with fatigue he reaches home and turns on the radio. He learns that England has won, 5 to 0.

He will have to do without beer or cigarettes until payday.

He feels wonderful. He has been present, with 99,000 others, when England avenged the defeat which knocked them out of the world soccer cup in Stockholm last summer.

Talent . . . New U.S. Heroes

By George Sokolsky

The role of our universities in developing services to the country is often neglected in the broader discussion of why freshmen cannot spell and seniors do not think. After seeing a flock of young ladies who have majored in this or that and none of whom have any clear concept of why they went to college, it is some satisfaction to have a look at the enormous services of the major universities in the broader fields of knowledge.

I happened to be glancing through the record of George B. Pegram, Dean of the Graduate Faculties of Columbia University. Dean Pegram died last summer and, of course, that event did not make much noise, hardly as much as the passing of a beladied auto-racer, but in the history of the development of the use of atomic energy, the role played by Dean Pegram is extraordinarily significant.

He made the first contact with the United States Government in March 1939 which eventually resulted in the establishment of the Manhattan Project which produced the atom bomb. It was under his direction that early in 1939, Dr. John R. Dunning and Dr. Enrico Fermi of the Columbia Physics Department planned to demonstrate the energy released by uranium fission. This was done on January 25, 1939 by the creation of 100,000,000 electron volts from a shattered atom on Columbia University's cyclotron.

The date is significant because this was done before there was any World War II, purely as a scientific experiment. In fact, Dean Pegram notified the Navy that this had been done at Columbia and the reason that he notified the Navy is that it occurred to him that these scientists had probably found the answer to the fuel problem of submarines. He wrote: "The space problem might be licked by the use of atomic energy, and this fuel would not require oxygen."

Later that year, Alexander Sachs, who was then an economist in Wall Street and a brilliant mathematician, went to President Roosevelt with a letter from Albert Einstein to explain to the President the significance of nuclear physics. The President became immensely interested and appointed an Advisory Committee on Uranium with Dr. Pegram as chairman. This became the famous SI Committee which served throughout the war to advise the government and from which the Manhattan Project received its scientific impetus.

Before this country went to war, Dean Pegram went to England to see whether the atom bomb could be developed there. He returned to this country, convinced that it had to be an American job. At Columbia, apart from Pegram, Dunning and Urey, Fermi, Szilard, Anderson, Zinn, Weil, Feld and others were already at work on this and other scientific projects which in time were translated into instruments for the defense of the United States.

Work similar to this is going on in universities all the time by unpublicized scholars who do not ask for much return from anyone for the wonderful work they are doing. They do not receive great salaries. They do not sport wealth in the night clubs of big cities.

Occasionally one such will get a Nobel Prize or an honorary degree and his picture will be printed in a newspaper, but generally such men seek no great honors or rewards. Their accomplishments are written in the history of the human race.

In the United States where the possession of money used to be the mark of success, more and more, we are turning to those who possess great talent and whose services are not measurable in money. Nobody, for instance, can measure the worth of the life of Dean Pegram of whom it can be said that he brought together a galaxy of scientists and made it possible for our nation to avail itself of their services. Many of them are not now at Columbia but have gone to other universities or are working for the government.

America's search for talent must give us altogether different values in appraising human beings and perhaps in rewarding them. The scientists who in 1939 thought that they had discovered a fuel for a submarine could not have appreciated that by 1958, their ideas would prove so correct that the "Nautilus" went under the ice-cap at the North Pole in one of the most amazing voyages of exploration in human history.

These are the heroes of American life in our times.

"Will you PLEASE stop introducing me as your second fiddle?"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE EDITOR of the Columbia Jester reports the receipt of this message from a valued old Indian friend in New Mexico: "You funny white people really seem to have perfected hydrogen bombs, and I am sure one day some crazy fool will begin to toss them around. Since you already have managed to crowd most of yourselves into uncomfortable, sunless cities, each bomb dropped should kill a couple million of you. When enough white people are killed, we will beat the daylights out of you, and take back the country you stole from us. Best regards, Chief You-know-who."

A young machinist and his bride, honeymooning on the shore of a New Hampshire lake, were caught in a canoe in a sudden, violent squall. The machinist, scared within an inch of his life, resorted to prayer. "Save us," he implored, "and I vow to give up smoking, drinking, gambling—"

"Don't go too far," interrupted his bride hastily. "I think I hear a motorboat coming to rescue us."

Are You a Safe Drinker?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

How much can you drink —safely?

I'm speaking, of course, about that social lubricant, alcoholic beverages.

Now it is impossible to set down any hard and fast rules which will govern everybody. Your capacity may be considerably over or under that of the next fellow.

However, we can take an average, and most of you can be governed pretty well by that.

On the average, a person achieves the optimum stage when he drinks about one ounce of whiskey. This much alcohol starts to remove a few of his inhibitions and, as a rule, makes him feel relaxed, at least for the time being.

Again, on the average, a person can metabolize one - half to one ounce of alcohol per hour. By maintaining this rate, the feeling of wellbeing can be continued.

But many persons aren't satisfied at this relatively slow rate of drinking. They try to insure or increase this rosy feeling by consuming another drink before the previous one has been burned up.

Naturally, the alcohol accumulates in the blood. As this alcoholic concentration increases, the drinker becomes even more gay, much more. He becomes loud, he may even stagger, and he fumbles. In other words, he is drunk.

Therefore, from one-half to one ounce of alcohol per hour (for a maximum of a couple of hours) is just about the safest way to drink for most of you who feel that you must drink.

I would like to emphasize that even one drink to too much for anyone who is driving.

The secret of drinking is to use both your judgment and your body. You judge how much your body can accommodate and then permit your body to consume the alcohol from the first drink before you take another.

Not many are going to become intoxicated at this rate. A person usually becomes drunk when he follows one drink immediately with another and another and another. This is when the real trouble begins.

He becomes an alcoholic when he is unable to control his own compulsion.

Please don't misconstrue this column as my permission for all of you to drink alcoholic beverages. But for those of you who do drink, this, I think, is the safest way to do it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, determinedly striving to push the Republican elephant into a stretch gallop, has found the going heavy and the footing slippery.

The durable Nixon was showing fatigue and irritability when he stopped here between tours ths week. He had taken some rude blows. He was obliged to defend and explain the damaging words and actions of other Republicans. And he had seen new threats develop to his own political future.

His temper frayed out in Minneapolis, where he barked an angry denial to a charge that hadn't been made—that he had avoided a stand on civil rights. Earlier, in Chicago, he had glared at a photographer who miscalled him "Mr. Truman." The impolitic glare was captured on film.

As the vice president took off Wednesday for a final grueling, hop-skipping tour to Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Washington state and Alaska, it seemed to some of his supporters that sheer bad luck was dogging his footsteps.

For Nixon, a record of success in this campaign is important to his own presidential aspratons n 1960. Any outcome short of a Democratic sweep could be credited partly, at least, to his talents as a vote-getter.

Certainly his efforts have helped to revive dispirited Republican organizations n many spots. Further, he has helped to add more than a million dollars to GOP finances by his fund-raising appearances and his personal efforts.

But there was still doubt whether any significant shift in voter sentiment has been wrought by Nixon or by President Eisenhower in their strong attacks on "radical" and "spendthrift" opponents.

An Associated Press check across the country indicated that neither the Republican headliners nor their opposite Democratic numbers, former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, had changed the minds of many voters.

So it was uncertain whether, as Nixon proclaimed in Lincoln, Neb. and elsewhere, the GOP has rebounded from what looked like sure defeat and that the campaign has become a brand new contest.

Neither Nixon nor Eisenhower, it became apparent has succeeded in healing the seemingly ruinous split of the top California Republicans, Sen. Wlliam F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwn Knight. The intraparty bitterness could do nothing but damage to Nixon's party in Nixon's state — and to Nixon's prestige as a leader of the state GOP organization.

And suddenly an alarm bell rang in a state which may be even more vital to Nixon's 1960 aspirations. The political pollsters decided that personable Nelson Rockefeller has edged to the fore in the New York governorship race against Gov. Averell Harriman. All Republicans could cheer, but what would the emergence of this new political phenomenon do to Nixon's chances for the nomination two years hence?

Rockefeller's gains owed nothing to Nixon. Would a Rockefeller victory give the party a potential new standard-bearer?

Other incidents plagued Nixon. The Gallup poll people issued a late-campaign report; it spoke of a Democratic landslide How come this, asked reporters, if Nixon's optimism was justified? Nixon said that hard work could change the outcome, and that the poll results already were outdated.

And why ddn't Eisenhower—or if not the President, somebody else at the White House—receive the leaders of the thousands of Negro and white students who staged a pro-integration rally in Washington last Saturday? Nixon's associates did not disguise their view that the White House had goofed.

And why did Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) haveto choose this crucial fortnight to remark that "on Nov. 5 Dick Nixon will assume the mantle of leadership of the Republican party?" Nixon, who has tried to keep his own aspirations out of this campaign, denied it.

The vice president is a fghter who fghts hardest when the battle is roughest. He'll be punching, right up to election day. But if he didn't know before, he must now realize that the tides of politics are treacherous indeed.

Dear Editor:

A recent political ad which appeared in "The Circleville Herald" stated, "in the recent audit of the Auditor's Office that it has been run in a very efficient and economical manner."

To our knowledge there has been no audit of the courthouse since 1956. If there has been a recent audit made of the Auditors Office we are wondering why this special or recent audit was necessary.

We also feel it is only in the line of duty as an office official to run their office in a very efficient manner. If any citizen would examine the books and routine of the other offices, they would find they are operated just as efficient and economical as the auditor's office.

Four in Contest For High Bench

This is another in a series of stories dealing with the upcoming election. Information on candidates and issues is given to help voters make informed decisions when they enter the voting booth.

Candidates for the Ohio Supreme Court bench are in two races for two seats. The first seat is for a full term, beginning Jan. 1, 1959, and the other for a full term beginning Jan. 2, 1959.

Incumbent Judge Charles B. 'Zimmerman, a Democrat, is pitted against Willard D. Campbell, a Republican, for the full term starting January 1. Incumbent Judge James Garfield Stewart, a Republican, is running against Merrill D. Brothers, a Democrat.

Both challengers have an uphill road to climb for both incumbents have many years service on the OSC and are well-known throughout the state.

It is the responsibility of an OSC Judge to hear all cases involving questions arising under Ohio or the United States Constitution. They must hear appeals in cases decided by Courts of Appeals, and may reverse or modify decisions of the latter.

THE OSC has no jury and is, for the most part, an appeals court. Its decision is final except in cases involving Constitutional questons.

The term of office is for six years and the salary is $18,000. Campbell, 56, Columbus, is a 1919 graduate of New Philadelphia High School. He received an A. B. degree from Muskingum College in 1922 and an MA degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

He has attended Cornell University and received an LL.B degree from Yale University in 1925. He has been engaged in an active law practice for 33 years, including 20 years of public and judicial service.

Campbell was chairman of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for three years, taught at Franklin University, Columbus, and was Special Assistant Attorney General in 1957-58.

Campbell's experience and training includes the positions of City Solicitor of Cambrdge, Ohio (1928-30); Prosecuting Attorney, Guernsey County (1930-34); Ohio Senate, representing nine counties in southeastern Ohio (1935-36);

Judge of Common Pleas Court, Guernsey County (1938-1939); Chief Enforcement Attorney of Columbus Office of Price Administration (1941-46); Director, Bureau of Code Revision, State of Ohio (1946-1953); served on National Executive Committee of Council of State Government (1952-1953);

Special Counsel for Ohio School Survey Committee (1955); Republican nominee for Chief Justice, Ohio Supreme Court (1956).

JUDGE ZIMMERMAN, 67, Springfield, was educated at Wittenberg College and Harvard Law School. He has been on the OSC since 1933.

Judge Zimmerman was in law practice from 1913 until 1933 in Springfield. He spent 15 months with combat troops in World War I. He is a member of the board of directors of Wittenberg College and a past president of the Springfield Kiwanis Club.

Brothers, 45, Columbus, is a 1931 graduate of South High School, Columbus, and Ohio State University (1931). He received his law degree from Franklin University.

Brothers was a member of the Industrial Commission of Ohio from 1935 until 1948. He was assistant Clerk of the Ohio Senate in 1949 and assistant Attorney General of Ohio from 1949 until 1951.

He presently is engaged in the private practice of law and has statewide trial and appellate experience.

Judge Stewart, 77, Cincinnati, attended grade and high school in Springfield. He received a PHB from Kenyon College and an LL.B from the University of Cincinnati Law School.

For many years Judge Stewart was engaged in the practice of law in all its branches and has 11 years experience on the OSC.

Medics Study Virus Which Prefers GIs

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A virus that apparently has a yen for military service has created a major mystery for the medicoes.

It's one of the so-called "adenoviruses" — a crew of germs that can cause cold-like illnesses, sometimes pretty severe ones.

The viruses first were discovered several years ago. Since then 23 separate types have been found in humans, including some that cause conjunctivitis, an eye infection.

One of them — called "type 4" — is a real oddball, the American Public Health Assn. was told Tuesday by Dr. Harold S. Ginsberg of Western Reserve University Medical School.

The severe, cold-like infections that it produces are confined almost exclusively "to militarily clothed adults" — and mainly to recruits — Ginsberg related.

The reason for this, he said, "remains a major epidemiological mystery."

Type 4 has somewhat of a rival in Type 7 as a military pest, but the latter is not so exclusively a camp follower.

Ginsberg said that while each of the 23 adenoviruses are known or believed to affect civilians at times, only two of them — Types 3 and 8 — are of epidemic significance among civilians. And these are largely limited to children.

2 Boys, 14, Given Life in Rape Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two 14-year-old Negro boys have received sentences of life in prison without parole for raping a 71-year-old white woman.

The penalty, meted out in criminal court Tuesday, was the severest sentence passed on juveniles here in years.

The boys, Richard Workman and Isaacs Pipes, pleaded guilty.

The jury imposed sentence in an open vote in court. There was no trial.

In Kentucky, rapists also may be sentenced to death or life in prison with possibility of parole.

The sentence means the boys will spend the rest of their days at the La Grange State Reformatory, unless clemency is granted by the governor.

Asst. Commonwealth Atty. Benjamin Shobe said there was no indication Gov. A. B. Chandler would take any action.

Shobe said the youths broke into the elederly woman's home last August, raped her, then assaulted her with a broomstick.

Toledo Extends Its Income Tax

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—City Council today extended Toledo's 1 per cent income tax to Dec. 31, 1963. It will expire at the same time as a proposed .5 per cent increase which voters will be asked to approve next Tuesday.

The income tax had been due to expire at the end of 1960.

The proposed increase is limited to a five-year period, with funds it would raise restricted to the financing of expressways and major thoroughfares.

Found the Hole

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — City Councilman C. M. Cornell heard complaints about holes in the street. He discovered one—an open manhole into which the front wheel of his car dropped. What next? He said he replaced the cover.

Weeky Food Review

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork and lamb take the play away from beef this weekend in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Some stores offer fresh ham, while others put a special price tag on smoked ham. Still others featured smoked, fully cooked ham ready-to-eat. Bacon, pork loin and shoulder cuts also are widely offered this week.

Lamb specials are mostly leg of lamb, although lamb shoulder and a combination of chops and stewing meat, sold together, are marked down in some places. Sirloin steak is the most frequent beef offering, reflecting prices lowered by as much as 20 cents a pound.

Leg of lamb is off 2 to 10 cents a pound in some areas, while pork chops are lower by as much as 16 cents a pound. Fryers mostly are more expensive.

The bargains in pork are expected to be repeated because hog marketings have started their usual fall climb.

With Halloween coming up, pumpkins are both plentiful and cheap.

Other vegetables on the outstanding list are potatoes, yellow onions, cabbage, celery, lettuce, endive, escarole, squash, radishes and green onions.

Good buys include snap beans, broccoli, cauliflower, carrots and western lettuce. Sweet corn is lower than last week, making it a fairly good buy. Cucumbers and sweet potatoes are in the same category. Tomatoes, eggplant and peas are heading upward.

One bit of bad news for the housewife: Flood waters and heavy rain have damaged the forthcoming winter vegetable crop along the lower Rio Grande Valley in Texas, a major winter supply area. Carrots, cabbage, beans, peppers and onions will be affected.

Ohio Marines Told DIs Lose Command

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Parents of six Lisbon Marines have been told that three Marine drill instructors at Camp Lejeune, N. C., have been relieved of their duties as a result of complaints the recruits were slapped and pushed.

The six Marines were part of a "Steel Valley Platoon" inducted June 19. They went through 12 weeks basic training at the Marines' Parris Island Base and graduated Sept. 23 after four weeks of advanced training at Lejeune. They are home on leave.

Marine Corps officers Tuesday held a conference with the six Marines and their parents in the Lisbon Village Hall.

The recruits had complained to their parents in letters and when the parents came to Parris Island for graduation ceremonies.

Cincy UA Tops Goal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of Cincinnati's United Appeal drive reported Tuesday night it went more than $50,000 over its $5,833,612 goal. The drive covers two counties in Ohio and three in Kentucky.

An exciting new kind of car!

Makes history by making sense

The car you hoped would happen! Looks right, works right. Priced right. Luxurious without overdoing it. Roomy without useless length. Powerful without hogging gas. Styled to last. Soundly engineered. Solidly built. Priced with the most popular three!

Add it up. You get solid new distinction rivaled only by cars costing much more! Bold new vertical grille. Strong new lines. Graceful new rear flight deck.

You get beautiful new efficiency. Wonderfully spacious interiors—with less length outside. Six adults ride in comfort, but Edsel's compact 120-inch wheelbase fits any normal garage, swings easily in and out of tight spots.

You get lots of go for little gas. Pounds and pounds of useless car weight are gone. And four new Edsel engines are here! Including a thrifty six with a powerful test track record. And a new kind of economy V-8 that uses regular fuel and wrings big mileage from every ounce! You get all the magnificent quality that marks a superior car. Super-smooth ride. Big, self-adjusting brakes. Luxurious carpeting, electric clock and four other customary "extras"—at no extra cost.

Four in Contest For High Bench

This is another in a series of stories dealing with the upcoming election. Information on candidates and issues is given to help voters make informed decisions when they enter the voting booth.

Candidates for the Ohio Supreme Court bench are in two races for two seats. The first seat is for a full term, beginning Jan. 1, 1959, and the other for a full term beginning Jan. 2, 1959.

Incumbent Judge Charles B. 'Zimmerman, a Democrat, is pitted against Willard D. Campbell, a Republican, for the full term starting January 1. Incumbent Judge James Garfield Stewart, a Republican, is running against Merrill D. Brothers, a Democrat.

Both challengers have an uphill road to climb for both incumbents have many years service on the OSC and are well-known throughout the state.

It is the responsibility of an OSC Judge to hear all cases involving questions arising under Ohio or the United States Constitution. They must hear appeals in cases decided by Courts of Appeals, and may reverse or modify decisions of the latter.

THE OSC has no jury and is, for the most part, an appeals court. Its decision is final except in cases involving Constitutional questons.

The term of office is for six years and the salary is $18,000. Campbell, 56, Columbus, is a 1919 graduate of New Philadelphia High School. He received an A. B. degree from Muskingum College in 1922 and an MA degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

He has attended Cornell University and received an LL.B degree from Yale University in 1925. He has been engaged in an active law practice for 33 years, including 20 years of public and judicial service.

Campbell was chairman of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for three years, taught at Franklin University, Columbus, and was Special Assistant Attorney General in 1957-58.

Campbell's experience and training includes the positions of City Solicitor of Cambrdge, Ohio (1928-30); Prosecuting Attorney, Guernsey County (1930-34); Ohio Senate, representing nine counties in southeastern Ohio (1935-36);

Judge of Common Pleas Court, Guernsey County (1938-1939); Chief Enforcement Attorney of Columbus Office of Price Administration (1941-46); Director, Bureau of Code Revision, State of Ohio (1946-1953); served on National Executive Committee of Council of State Government (1952-1953);

Special Counsel for Ohio School Survey Committee (1955); Republican nominee for Chief Justice, Ohio Supreme Court (1956).

JUDGE ZIMMERMAN, 67, Springfield, was educated at Wittenberg College and Harvard Law School. He has been on the OSC since 1933.

Judge Zimmerman was in law practice from 1913 until 1933 in Springfield. He spent 15 months with combat troops in World War I. He is a member of the board of directors of Wittenberg College and a past president of the Springfield Kiwanis Club.

Brothers, 45, Columbus, is a 1931 graduate of South High School, Columbus, and Ohio State University (1931). He received his law degree from Franklin University.

Brothers was a member of the Industrial Commission of Ohio from 1935 until 1948. He was assistant Clerk of the Ohio Senate in 1949 and assistant Attorney General of Ohio from 1949 until 1951.

He presently is engaged in the private practice of law and has statewide trial and appellate experience.

Judge Stewart, 77, Cincinnati, attended grade and high school in Springfield. He received a PHB from Kenyon College and an LL.B from the University of Cincinnati Law School.

For many years Judge Stewart was engaged in the practice of law in all its branches and has 11 years experience on the OSC.

Medics Study Virus Which Prefers Gls

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A virus that apparently has a yen for military service has created a major mystery for the medicoes.

It's one of the so-called "adenoviruses" — a crew of germs that can cause cold-like illnesses, sometimes pretty severe ones.

The viruses first were discovered several years ago. Since then 23 separate types have been found in humans, including some that cause conjunctivitis, an eye infection.

One of them — called "type 4" — is a real oddball, the American Public Health Assn. was told Tuesday by Dr. Harold S. Ginsberg of Western Reserve University Medical School.

The severe, cold-like infections that it produces are confined almost exclusively "to militarily clothed adults" — and mainly to recruits — Ginsberg related.

The reason for this, he said, "remains a major epidemiological mystery."

Type 4 has somewhat of a rival in Type 7 as a military pest, but the latter is not so exclusively a camp follower.

Ginsberg said that while each of the 23 adenoviruses are known or believed to affect civilians at times, only two of them — Types 3 and 8 — are of epidemic significance among civilians. And these are largely limited to children.

2 Boys, 14, Given Life in Rape Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two 14-year-old Negro boys have received sentences of life in prison without parole for raping a 71-year-old white woman.

The penalty, meted out in criminal court Tuesday, was the severest sentence passed on juveniles here in years.

The boys, Richard Workman and Isaacs Pipes, pleaded guilty. The jury imposed sentence in an open vote in court. There was no trial.

In Kentucky, rapists also may be sentenced to death or life in prison with possibility of parole.

The sentence means the boys will spend the rest of their days at the La Grange State Reformatory, unless clemency is granted by the governor.

Asst. Commonwealth Atty. Benjamin Shobe said there was no indication Gov. A. B. Chandler would take any action.

Shobe said the youths broke into the elederly woman's home last August, raped her, then assaulted her with a broomstick.

Toledo Extends Its Income Tax

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—City Council today extended Toledo's 1 per cent income tax to Dec. 31, 1963. It will expire at the same time as a proposed .5 per cent increase which voters will be asked to approve next Tuesday.

The income tax had been due to expire at the end of 1960.

The proposed increase is limited to a five-year period, with funds it would raise restricted to the financing of expressways and major thoroughfares.

Found the Hole

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — City Councilman C. M. Cornell heard complaints about holes in the street. He discovered one—an open manhole into which the front wheel of his car dropped. What next? He said he replaced the cover.

Weeky Food Review

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork and lamb take the play away from beef this weekend in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Some stores offer fresh ham, while others put a special price tag on smoked ham. Still others featured smoked, fully cooked ham ready-to-eat. Bacon, pork loin and shoulder cuts also are widely offered this week.

Lamb specials are mostly leg of lamb, although lamb shoulder and a combination of chops and stewing meat, sold together, are marked down in some places. Sirloin steak is the most frequent beef offering, reflecting prices lowered by as much as 20 cents a pound.

Leg of lamb is off 2 to 10 cents a pound in some areas, while pork chops are lower by as much as 16 cents a pound. Fryers mostly are more expensive.

The bargains in pork are expected to be repeated because hog marketings have started their usual fall climb.

With Halloween coming up, pumpkins are both plentiful and cheap.

Other vegetables on the outstanding list are potatoes, yellow onions, cabbage, celery, lettuce, endive, escarole, squash, radishes and green onions.

Good buys include snap beans, broccoli, cauliflower, carrots and western lettuce. Sweet corn is lower than last week, making it a fairly good buy. Cucumbers and sweet potatoes are in the same category. Tomatoes, eggplant and peas are heading upward.

One bit of bad news for the housewife: Flood waters and heavy rain have damaged the forthcoming winter vegetable crop along the lower Rio Grande Valley in Texas, a major winter supply area. Carrots, cabbage, beans, peppers and onions will be affected.

Ohio Marines Told Dls Lose Command

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—Parents of six Lisbon Marines have been told that three Marine drill instructors at Camp Lejeune, N. C., have been relieved of their duties as a result of complaints the recruits were slapped and pushed.

The six Marines were part of a "Steel Valley Platoon" inducted June 19. They went through 12 weeks basic training at the Marines' Parris Island Base and graduated Sept. 23 after four weeks of advanced training at Lejeune. They are home on leave.

Marine Corps officers Tuesday held a conference with the six Marines and their parents in the Lisbon Village Hall.

The recruits had complained to their parents in letters and when the parents came to Parris Island for graduation ceremonies.

Cincy UA Tops Goal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of Cincinnati's United Appeal drive reported Tuesday night it went more than $50,000 over its $5,833,612 goal. The drive covers two counties in Ohio and three in Kentucky.

1959 EDSEL

Above: Edsel Corsair 4-door hardtop

An exciting new kind of car!

Makes history by making sense

The car you hoped would happen! Looks right, works right. Priced right. Luxurious without overdoing it. Roomy without useless length. Powerful without hogging gas. Styled to last. Soundly engineered. Solidly built. Priced with the most popular three!

You get beautiful new efficiency. Wonderfully spacious interiors—with less length outside. Six adults ride in comfort, but Edsel's compact 120-inch wheelbase fits any normal garage, swings easily in and out of tight spots.

You get lots of go for little gas. Pounds and pounds of useless car weight are gone. And four new Edsel engines are here! Including a thrifty six with a powerful test track record. And a new kind of economy V-8 that uses regular fuel and wrings big mileage from every ounce! You get all the magnificent quality that marks a superior car. Super-smooth ride. Big, self-adjusting brakes. Luxurious carpeting, electric clock and four other customary "extras"—at no extra cost.

Yet the challenging new 1959 Edsel is priced with the most popular three! For example, you'll find that a new Edsel Ranger is priced almost exactly the same as many models of Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford. See for yourself—this comparison is actually based on the factory suggested list prices.

It's easy to see why this is the car that makes history by making sense. The new kind of car you've been waiting for. See it and drive it now at your Edsel Dealer. Ten history-making new models!

Small Errors Can Spoil Perfect Picture of You

By JEANNE D'ARCY

Who can resist a quiz? Hardly anyone!

Ever taken the kind that asks "What's wrong with this picture?" Usually, it shows a grouping of objects one of which is, for one reason or another, wrong. Your job is to spot the error.

Try this type of quiz for beauty next time you're dressed and ready to go to the office, a club meeting or a social evening. You're the picture! Is it one of perfection? Or is something wrong?

Unlike most quizzes, we're going to give you a few hints about some of the things to look for in the way of errors:

1. Dull-looking jewelry. If it's dusty, lacks sparkle, a jewel has little value as an accessory. Occasionally, give gems a washing. Always store them in a jewel box or drawer.

2. Limp veiling. Veiling should be crisp, have body. If it's not either, place it under a piece of waxed paper and press with a hot iron or replace it with new veiling.

3. Not-so-white blouse or accessories. White things can't be gray or near-white. They must be truly white. Blouses gloves, colors, scarves and other apparel must be washed after each wearing to look white and right.

4. A bulging - out-at - the -seams handbag. Your purse must be in good shape. It won't be if you use it as a combination carryall and wastebasket. Weed out extras. File contents neatly. Don't cram in more than your bag was meant to carry.

5. Straggling locks. Even one wisp of hair out of place can spoil your coiffure. Check hairdo back and front for perfection. Use a spray to keep stray locks in line.

6. Powder traces. A dusting of powder on shoulders shows up, so don't leave home without giving yourself the brush-off.

Use a strong-bristled brush on clothes and, while you're about it, check shoes. They may need brushing, too.

15 Youths Enjoy Halloween Party

Deidre Wiggins, Mona Styers and Sharon Hosler were hosts to a Halloween party Saturday evening. The party was held in the basement of Miss Wiggins' home. Decorations were of the Halloween theme.

Following the contests and dancing, refreshments were served. Those attending were: Joan Gibbs, Carl Zehner, Carolyn Harden, Doug Conley, Judy Reithmiller, Bob Furhman, Jeannie Bartholomew, Fred Hoover, Ginger Wilson, Eddie Wright, Barbara Cerney, Leroy Hagan, Emily Weldon and David Hannahs. Dropping in later during the evening were Roger Magill, Sara Wantz, Judy Barnhill and Mike Hosler.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I belong to a club that holds social meetings once every two weeks, and I have been going to these meetings for the last six months.

Now my husband, who works nights, says that I am not to attend any more - because the husband of one of the ladies brought me home last week, when it was raining. This was just a considerate gesture, I thought.

Don't you feel that my husband is being unjust? There never has been any distrust between us, before this.

G.P.

DEAR G.P.: Your husband puts his foot down because he is anxious; and maybe also a bit jealous, at the thought of your getting around in mixed company, and possibly enjoying it, when he can't be present.

His prescription for getting rid of anxiety is rather extreme; somewhat in the class of cutting one's head off to cure a headache. It makes everything worse, instead of better.

He isn't altogether unjustified in taking a protest-attitude towards your being brought home, at night in the rain, by another woman's husband.

If the wife was in the car, you were really her guest for the ride, not her husband's. And, in that case, your husband has little ground for taking exception. Unless, of course, he senses that you were "all set up" over the experience, making too much of it in your thinking, dwelling wistfully on the man's courtesy and possibly comparing the other wife's luck with your own, in terms of wishing your husband squired you around.

There are reasons why it isn't prudent for a wife, whose husband works nights, to participate in social situations where she might seem dependent upon, and responsive to, "custodial" - type attentions from other men.

For one thing, people gossip about the wife who lets herself in for that kind of gallantry. And, indeed, if she can't take care of herself socially, without other men's help in her husband's absence, she probably had better stay home —if she values her husband, and her good name.

M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Household Hints

If your cakes aren't browning properly, check the pans you are using. Those that are too large for the amount of batter used prevent the cakes from browning on the top.

Meat stains on the table cloth from Sunday's roast? Soak the cloth in cold water before washing it with more cold water and suds.

Wife Preservers

A yard or two of quilted plastic makes a fine crib spread. It can be sponged off quickly with a sudsy cloth and will dry in a jiffy.

Following the contests and dancing, refreshments were served. Those attending were: Joan Gibbs, Carl Zehner, Carolyn Harden, Doug Conley, Judy Reithmiller, Bob Furhman, Jeannie Bartholomew, Fred Hoover, Ginger Wilson, Eddie Wright, Barbara Cerney, Leroy Hagan, Emily Weldon and David Hannahs. Dropping in later during the evening were Roger Magill, Sara Wantz, Judy Barnhill and Mike Hosler.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I belong to a club that holds social meetings once every two weeks, and I have been going to these meetings for the last six months.

Now my husband, who works nights, says that I am not to attend any more - because the husband of one of the ladies brought me home last week, when it was raining. This was just a considerate gesture, I thought.

Don't you feel that my husband is being unjust? There never has been any distrust between us, before this.

G.P.

DEAR G.P.: Your husband puts his foot down because he is anxious; and maybe also a bit jealous, at the thought of your getting around in mixed company, and possibly enjoying it, when he can't be present.

His prescription for getting rid of anxiety is rather extreme; somewhat in the class of cutting one's head off to cure a headache. It makes everything worse, instead of better.

He isn't altogether unjustified in taking a protest-attitude towards your being brought home, at night in the rain, by another woman's husband.

If the wife was in the car, you were really her guest for the ride, not her husband's. And, in that case, your husband has little ground for taking exception. Unless, of course, he senses that you were "all set up" over the experience, making too much of it in your thinking, dwelling wistfully on the man's courtesy and possibly comparing the other wife's luck with your own, in terms of wishing your husband squired you around.

There are reasons why it isn't prudent for a wife, whose husband works nights, to participate in social situations where she might seem dependent upon, and responsive to, "custodial" - type attentions from other men.

For one thing, people gossip about the wife who lets herself in for that kind of gallantry. And, indeed, if she can't take care of herself socially, without other men's help in her husband's absence, she probably had better stay home —if she values her husband, and her good name.

M.H.

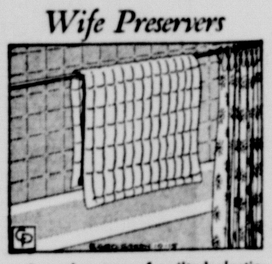
Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Household Hints

If your cakes aren't browning properly, check the pans you are using. Those that are too large for the amount of batter used prevent the cakes from browning on the top.

Meat stains on the table cloth from Sunday's roast? Soak the cloth in cold water before washing it with more cold water and suds.

Wife Preservers



A yard or two of quilted plastic makes a fine crib spread. It can be sponged off quickly with a sudsy cloth and will dry in a jiffy.

MOONEY BACK HOME—The Most Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, auxiliary bishop of Detroit, officiates at a brief prayer over casket containing body of Cardinal Mooney on its arrival in Detroit. The cardinal died in Rome just before start of the conclave to elect a new pope to succeed Pius XII.

Coal Mine Mishap Era Said Here Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal mine explosions, such as the two which killed 35 miners this week, are more frequent during the period from Oct. 1 through March 31, the Bureau of Mines said today.

This week's explosions in mines near Bishop, Va., and Summersville, W. Va., were the first major explosion disasters listed by the bureau in U. S. coal mines this year. The bureau rates as a major disaster a single accident causing five or more deaths.

There havs been 17 major explosion disasters in U.S. coal mines since Jan. 1, 1948, with 14 of these occurring during the October-March span.

"We know the most dangerous time for explosons is when the mines are drying out, the long period from October through March," said Harry F. Weaver, chief of the Division of Coal Mine Inspection.

However, Weaver and other bureau officials said there has been no conclusive determination that weather changes make mine explosions more likely.

They did point out that a 1954 study at the Orient No. 2 mine at West Frankfort, Ill., resulted in a bureau warning that additional precautions should be taken against explosive methane gas when the barometer is falling. On Dec. 21, 1951 in the Orient No. 2 mine 119 miners were killed in an explosion.

Woman Accused Of Slaying Mate

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Carole Brown, 21, was charged with second-degree murder today in the slaying of her husband, Richard, 22, whose body was recovered from Cedar Lake Oct. 21.

She pleaded innocent before Mahoning County Judge Harold S. Rickert Jr. and was released under $10,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing Nov. 3.

Mrs. Brown admitted in a signed statement Tuesday, according to Deputy Sheriff Frank Reese, that she shot her husband in the head in their home at Mineral Ridge Oct. 11 and dumped his body into the lake. She said the shooting followed an argument during which Brown threatened to torture her with a heated butcher knife.

Football Pool Scheme Fouled By Postmen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — It appeared that John Raymond Carey, 40, of Troy, had a sure-fire scheme to win the $100 weekly football contest sponsored by the Dayton News.

But today Carey ran afoul of postal authorities and was jailed on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The News officials said that before the scheme was thwarted, Carey had been paid for winning two contests and had won a third, but had not received payment for the third.

The newspaper and postal officials explained the scheme this way:

Deadline for the contest which involves picking winners of major games, is midnight Thursday when the selections must be postmarked. Postal authorities said Carey would mail a blank postcard to himself in the middle of the week, hold it until after the games were played on Saturday, fill in the winners, erase the original address, readress the card to the newspaper, and then return the card to the postoffice as misdirected mail.

Apostolic Aide Labels Pope Humble Priest

CLEVELAND (AP)—"As a humble priest, bishop and cardinal he has been the living image of the good shepherd."

Thus Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, described the new pope, John XXIII.

In Cleveland for the consecration of Bishop Paul J. Hallinan, the apostolic delegate stated:

"Among the many eminent gifts of mind and heart of the new pontiff, one shines fourth brightly which has always been characteristic of him—am inspired and ardent zeal for souls.

"The people of Venice, who were blessed with his presence and ministry as patriarch in recent years, saw St. Pius X living once again in him.

"He was the loving father and vigilant shepherd, alert to all the needs of his faithful and protecting them from the inroads of materialism and irreligion."

Archbishop Edward F. Hoban of the Cleveland diocese said:

"We pay filial homage to his holiness, Pope John XXIII, and pledge our affectionate loyalty and obedience."

Archbishop Cicogani leaves for Detroit today where on Friday he will officiate at the pontifical requiem mass for Edward Cardinal Mooney.

Educator Confesses

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Bill Butler, president of the Orange School Board, today paid Frank Hubert, superintendent of schools, for breaking a window in an elementary school. Butler did it with a golf ball.

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

Miss Jo Ellen Essick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Essick, left Wednesday, for Philadelphia, Pa., where she has accepted a position with the North Light Boys Club as a social worker. Her new address is 2039 Cherry St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Friday night will be the annual Halloween Parade, starting at 7:30 p. m. on West Main St. and ending at the school house where the judging will take place in the auditorium. Also that same evening we will find the "Vernor's Ginger Ale Pizza Wagon" in town sponsored by the Methodist Fellowship Class.

On Saturday morning be sure to see the parade that will get under way at 10:30 a. m. Help back the band members when they come calling at your door.

On Sunday, everyone is invited to attend the Consecration Service and Open House of the newly remodeled basement class rooms in the Ashville Methodist Church. The service will start at 2:30 p. m. with Dr. W. Carl Hickey, district superintendent, as guest speaker and the Junior Choir furnishing the special music. Following the services a tea will be served by the WSCS.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lindsey visited with Mrs. Alice Neer of South Solon and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parks of Five Points Monday. They also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Braley of Reese Station.

MR. AND MRS. Chester Gloyd are parents of a son born October 24 in White Cross Hospital. The baby has been named David Allen and weighed 7 lbs. 9½ ozs. at birth.

The Bastian Funeral Home moved Mrs. Ed Runkle to Mercy Hospital Thursday evening following an auto accident on Circleville-Lockbourne Road, north of Ashville. Sunday, October 26, Bastian returned Mickey Six from Berger Hospital to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Gardner of Hollywood, Calif. and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wiltse of Detroit, Mich. were weekend guests of Mrs. G. R. Gardner and son, George and family. Mr. Gardner is a brother of the late Dr. G. R. Gardner.

Mrs. Elda Behnke toured New York City with friends from Mt. Vernon. They were with a theatre tour which left Columbus Sunday evening and returned home Friday evening.

The Sisterhood of the Evangelical United Brethren Church is collecting used clothing to send needy overseas. If you have any thing you would like to donate it would be appreciated. They especially need winter clothing as well as men's and women's shoes (the nurse style for the ladies, or something low and comfortable). Also children's clothing of all kinds. You may call the following ladies if you wish to donate: Mrs. H. A. Dickinson, phone YU 3-3301 or Mrs. Carl Groff, phone YU 3-2761.

The Ashville Civic Club will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday evening, Nov. 6, in the Ashville School auditorium. Mrs. F. C. Tammany of Circleville will be guest speaker. Her topic will be "Foreign Foods." All members are urged to bring new prospective members with them to this meeting.

Several members will be attending the Ohio Federation Conference for District 7 to be held at Pataskala Saturday. If any member has failed to make a reservation please notify Mrs. Donald Flierl, phone YU 3-3941. Transportation will be furnished.

At 10:30 a. m. Saturday a parade through the streets of Ashville will announce the arrival of Mr. Peanut in the village. Mr. Peanut will come from Planter's Peanut Land to help with the Band Boosters door-to-door packaged peanuts-in-the-shell sale.

The parade will be comprised of new autos, farm equipment, Fire Dept. decorated cars, bicycles, and children with pets. The parade will be led by the 107-member Ashville Marching Band.

ANY ONE interested in being in the parade please be at the Ashville High School at 10 a. m. so that the parade master can get all units organized. All Band Boosters are urged to help with this project.

As a definite goal for this school year, the Band Boosters Club is planning to adopt the proposal to help purchase many needed large instruments and items of equipment plus replacement uniforms when needed.

The parade route will be: Form on Walnut St. from Plum to Harrison St.; proceed east on Plum to Circleville Ave.; south to Main St.; west to Jefferson Ave.; north to Griggs St.; east to Scioto St.; south to Madison Ave.; east to Long St.; north to Harrison St.; east to Powell St.; south to Cherry St., and east on Cherry St. to the school.

Football Pool Scheme Fouled By Postmen

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — It appeared that John Raymond Carey, 40, of Troy, had a sure-fire scheme to win the $100 weekly football contest sponsored by the Dayton News.

But today Carey ran afoul of postal authorities and was jailed on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The News officials said that before the scheme was thwarted, Carey had been paid for winning two contests and had won a third, but had not received payment for the third.

The newspaper and postal officials explained the scheme this way:

Deadline for the contest which involves picking winners of major games, is midnight Thursday when the selections must be postmarked. Postal authorities said Carey would mail a blank postcard to himself in the middle of the week, hold it until after the games were played on Saturday, fill in the winners, erase the original address, readress the card to the newspaper, and then return the card to the postoffice as misdirected mail.

Apostolic Aide Labels Pope Humble Priest

CLEVELAND (AP)—"As a humble priest, bishop and cardinal he has been the living image of the good shepherd."

Thus Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, described the new pope, John XXIII.

In Cleveland for the consecration of Bishop Paul J. Hallinan, the apostolic delegate stated:

"Among the many eminent gifts of mind and heart of the new pontiff, one shines fourth brightly which has always been characteristic of him—am inspired and ardent zeal for souls.

"The people of Venice, who were blessed with his presence and ministry as patriarch in recent years, saw St. Pius X living once again in him.

"He was the loving father and vigilant shepherd, alert to all the needs of his faithful and protecting them from the inroads of materialism and irreligion."

Archbishop Edward F. Hoban of the Cleveland diocese said:

"We pay filial homage to his holiness, Pope John XXIII, and pledge our affectionate loyalty and obedience."

Archbishop Cicogani leaves for Detroit today where on Friday he will officiate at the pontifical requiem mass for Edward Cardinal Mooney.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

Miss Jo Ellen Essick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Essick, left Wednesday, for Philadelphia, Pa., where she has accepted a position with the North Light Boys Club as a social worker. Her new address is 2039 Cherry St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Friday night will be the annual Halloween Parade, starting at 7:30 p. m. on West Main St. and ending at the school house where the judging will take place in the auditorium. Also that same evening we will find the "Vernor's Ginger Ale Pizza Wagon" in town sponsored by the Methodist Fellowship Class.

On Saturday morning be sure to see the parade that will get under way at 10:30 a. m. Help back the band members when they come calling at your door.

On Sunday, everyone is invited to attend the Consecration Service and Open House of the newly remodeled basement class rooms in the Ashville Methodist Church. The service will start at 2:30 p. m. with Dr. W. Carl Hickey, district superintendent, as guest speaker and the Junior Choir furnishing the special music. Following the services a tea will be served by the WSCS.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lindsey visited with Mrs. Alice Neer of South Solon and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parks of Five Points Monday. They also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Braley of Reese Station.

MR. AND MRS. Chester Gloyd are parents of a son born October 24 in White Cross Hospital. The baby has been named David Allen and weighed 7 lbs. 9½ ozs. at birth.

The Bastian Funeral Home moved Mrs. Ed Runkle to Mercy Hospital Thursday evening following an auto accident on Circleville-Lockbourne Road, north of Ashville. Sunday, October 26, Bastian returned Mickey Six from Berger Hospital to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Gardner of Hollywood, Calif. and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wiltse of Detroit, Mich. were weekend guests of Mrs. G. R. Gardner and son, George and family. Mr. Gardner is a brother of the late Dr. G. R. Gardner.

Mrs. Elda Behnke toured New York City with friends from Mt. Vernon. They were with a theatre tour which left Columbus Sunday evening and returned home Friday evening.

The Sisterhood of the Evangelical United Brethren Church is collecting used clothing to send needy overseas. If you have any thing you would like to donate it would be appreciated. They especially need winter clothing as well as men's and women's shoes (the nurse style for the ladies, or something low and comfortable). Also children's clothing of all kinds. Unions Aiding Ohio Dems; Individuals Finance GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — According to reports filed with Congress, labor organizations are directing all their congressional campaign contributions in Ohio to Democratic candidates.

Reports filed with the House clerk disclose labor groups have contributed $12,500 to the campaign of Stephen M. Young, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator.

The unionists also report contributions totaling $10,250 to campaigns for the House by nine Ohio Democrats.

On the other hand, House records show the big individual contributors in Ohio — Those giving $1,000 or more to the national campaign—are making their donations only to the Republican Party.

The Republican national committee's records show 14 Ohio contributors in this category have given the GOP committee a total of $23,500.

Biggest single donor was Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio). She gave $3,000.

The Democratic National Committee reports no donation as large as $1,000 from any Ohioan so far.

All the reports are incomplete and probably will remain so until after the election. The same is true of reports by individual candidates.

In the Ohio senatorial race, for example, Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican, did not report any contributions.

He explained that all of his contributions are handled by the John W. Bricker Campaign Committee. This type of organization is not required to report to Congress.

Bricker did report an expenditure of $3,000 for campaign trips totaling 11,000 miles, and submitted a bill for $29.17 for a stay at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. He made the latter report, he said, because the hotel bill exceeded $25.

Bricker also listed a $250 contribution by him to the Franklin County Republican committee.

His opponent, Young, listed individual contributions of $590 and expenditures of $4,718.

Preliminary reports by Ohio candidates for the House still are being received at the office of the House clerk.

But according to reports already in, the race the Republicans are showing the most interest in, from the point of view of money, is in the 6th District in southern Ohio.

There, the reports show, contributions to the Republican candidate, Elmer Barrett of Chillicothe, already total $9,736—$6,500 of it from the Ohio Republican Finance Committee.

That is by far the most the committee has donated to date for any Ohio House GOP race. In addition, the National Citizens for Eisenhower - Nixon gave another $1,000 for Barrett's campaign.

However, the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education reports a $2,000 contribution to Rep. James G. Polk's campaign in that district and the United Steelworkers Political Action Fund added $250 more.

Detective's Dream Leads to Wanted Man

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP) —Detective Richard Brammer believes in following up every lead.

He told his partner, Joe Durban that he had dreamed of arresting Albert Rodela, whom they had been hunting a month on a forgery warrant.

In the dream, Brammer said, the arrest was made at the home of Rodela's sister.

So the detectives went to the sister's home.

Ten minutes later Rodela drove up, and Brammer's dream came true.

U.S. Business This Autumn Showing Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although some phases of the recession still linger, the Commerce Department says business has fared better than usual this autumn.

In its monthly survey of the business situation, the department said that various economic indicators show the business recovery now is rather broad.

There were a few dark spots, however. The report gave this summary:

"The recovery in employment has been rather limited; investment in industrial and commercial facilities, although leveling off, is not yet advancing, and auto production still has not given the stimulus which will come with large scale output of 1959 cars."

But except for autos, the department said industrial production has shown a marked comeback.

The better-than-seasonal pickup, the report said, has been reflected in rising personal income which climbed by 1½ billion dollars last month to a record rate of 357½ billions a year. Most of the increase was credited to bigger wage and salary payments.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service reported that despite the recession federal tax collections during the fiscal year that ended June 30 fell only 200 million dollars below the previous year.

Germans Say West Still Taps Wires

BONN, Germany (AP) — The government said today the Western Big Three still are tapping private telephone lines in sovereign West Germany.

Postal Minister Richard Stuecklin was asked in Parliament if the Americans were listening in on a private line in the Palatinate State.

Stuecklen said the treaties under which West Germany was granted sovereignty 3½ years ago gave the Allies the authority to tap lines if they thought the interests of their troops were in danger.

Faubus Solicits Funds for School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — About 9,000 letters soliciting funds for the Little Rock Private School Corp. have been sent from Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office. One of his aides said today the response is "very good."

The letters, bearing the signatures of Faubus and Dr. T. J. Raney, corporation president, solicit donations in order to "establish private schools in private facilities with private funds" in Little Rock.

The corporation does not issue regular reports on how much money it has received, but Raney said over $100,000 had been contributed through last week.

Ohio Planning Crackdown on Insurancemen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Department of Insurance plans to crack down on what State Insurance Supt. Arthur I. Vorys calls the unethical practices of some insurance agents.

In his department newsletter released Tuesday, Vorys said:

"The rising number of allegations of misrepresentation, rewriting, twisting, raiding and policy displacement . . . indicates a trend not only harmful to the life insurance business but also contrary to the public interest.

"The distressing thing about such complaints is that the life industry, having achieved a high degree of public acceptance through its unwritten code of ethical standards, may now be discrediting itself."

Vorys said in some instances the unethical practices "seem to have been tolerated and encouraged by company management."

Vorys did not name any company or agent.

Vorys said his office is receiving an increasing number of complaints of unethical practices and that he has set up a "comprehensive record system" to keep tabs on agents and companies.

"If it is found that an agent or company develops a poor performance record when these statistics are reviewed," Vorys said, "the department will take appropriate action to have the situation corrected."

Slayer Claims He Killed at Wrong Place

CLEVELAND (AP)—Just before the bailiffs led John N. Ross, 33, from the courtroom where he had been convicted of second degree murder, he said: "If I would have shot him in the house, I'd never been brought here."

And the presiding judge of the three-judge panel, Charles W. White, replied:

"I guess that's why they didn't make you a judge in this case."

Judge White sentenced Ross to life in Ohio Penitentiary, but ordered him held in county jail pending appeal.

Ross had been charged with first degree murder in the shooting last July 26 of Russell R. Caputo, 39, an interior decorator and part-time cook. Caputo fell dead across the street from the Ross home here.

During the trial it was related that Ross, his wife, Caputo and another woman had driven to the Ross home after a day-long drinking session celebrating Mrs. Ross' 30th birthday.

The defense maintained Ross chased Caputo outside and shot him after finding him with Ross' wife, Jean, on a couch in the Ross home. The state contended Caputo was killed as he got out of the car.

This TV Western Girl Really Is Good and True and Honest

NEW YORK (AP)—The majority of girls in TV Westerns are not exactly the type you'd want to introduce to your mother. When they aren't trying to reform after a dubious past they're usually making eyes at a dubious future.

Carole Mathews, a tall, beautiful brunette, hopes that an exception to his generalization is Wilma Fansler, the young widow who appears to have a crush on Marshal Matt Wayne in The Californians (Tuesdays, NBC-TV).

Miss Mathews knows Wilma better than anyone else because she plays the role of Wilma. "I want her to be a good-hearted girl, not a bad girl," says Miss Mathews.

Wilma, to be sure, is no prude. She runs a gambling house — though everybody goes to great pains to emphasize that it's an HONEST gambling house.

Furthermore, Wilma is a widow. And, if you've been watching the TV set very sharply, you'll have observed that comely young widows have become highly respectable creatures on nighttime teleplays recently.

Miss Mathews said that viewers now seem to have accepted the fact that Wilma is Matt's girl friend. No hanky-panky, you understand. Just good friends.

True, Wilma never has kissed Wayne, played by Richard Coogan.

And why not?

"I really don't know why not," said Miss Mathews. "As a matter of fact, that's a very good question. Why can't I kiss my leading man? Why don't leading men in Westerns ever kiss a girl?"

Would Wilma like to kiss Matt?

Miss Mathews, an adroit diplomat, said thoughtfully, "I don't think it matters much how Wilma feels about it. The important thing is what would be the audience reaction. I'd like to know if they objected to a very warm, tender relationship between Wilma and Matt.

"On the other hand, perhaps the audience prefers the sense of anticipation that they may someday kiss rather than the fact that they do."

State Treasurer Says Ohio Is a $3 Billion Business

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy today described state government as a three-billion-dollar business.

His annual report for the bookkeeping year ended last June 30 showed over-all transactions totaling $2,834,768,591. The sum included highway improvements.

Tracy said the report showed a 73 per cent increase over state business totaling $1,580,252,395 when he took office in 1951.

The 60-page report will go to state and county officials, public libraries and banks throughout the state. It will be available to schools, civic groups and others.

Analysis of the state's financial picture showed all-time high receipts of $1,421,874,934 and record expenditures of $1,412,893,657. The balance of all funds was $366,147,728 at the end of the fiscal year.

General revenue funds for normal state operations showed that spending exceeded revenues by $45,600,552. But a transfer of $17,214,136 in undivided public utilities taxes cut the decrease to $28,386,416. The result was a drop in the general revenue fund balance during the year from $131,350,536 to $102,964,121. The balance included cash and funds encumbered but not spent.

Sales tax collections, the state's largest single sources of revenue, reflected recession inroads. Receipts last year aggregated $227,351,376 against $326,096,469 a year earlier.

Accelerated highway construction accounted for a major share of expenditures. The highway department spent $189,301,068 of its own funds plus $126,105,095 obtained from sale of major throughfare bonds.

Ohio's liquor monopoly produced $39,279,374 from which $21,300,000 was transferred to the general revenue fund as "profit." Gallonage taxes brought in another 18 million dollars.

Other major income from taxes and fees, in approximate millions of dollars, included: gasoline 123 millions, state universities and colleges 45, motor vehicle and driver licenses 74, public utilities 36, cigarettes 34, intangibles 31, insurance 28 and beer, wine and malt 23.

State and custodial funds held on behalf of the four retirement systems and the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation totaled $1,131,960,652. Another $247,385,000 in securities were held to secure deposits.

Bonded indebtedness stood at $487,230,000. That sum included World War II bonus bonds, $78,720,000; major throughfare construction bonds $315,480,000; capital improvement bonds, $34,625,000 and Korean bonus bonds $58,405,000.

Lake Erie Coal Loading Total Tops '57 Figure

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lake Erie Coal ports loaded more bituminous coal during the week ended last Monday than they did in the similar week of 1957. A total of 1,188,805 net tons was loaded into vessels compared with 1,153,005 net tons for the similar week last year. For the season to date, however, a total of 31,753,145 net tons were loaded, a drop of 9,758,445 below a year ago, the ore and coal exchange reported.

East Liverpool Postman Shuns City Income Tax

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) —Rather than pay East Liverpools eight-mill income tax, William F. Azdell said he will go to jail. In a hearing in Municipal Court Wednesday, Azdell, a post office employe, demanded a jury trial on charges he failed to file a declaration of estimated income in 1958. Hearing of the charge was discontinued to Nov. 7.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Joseph Trzop had to close up shop while he obtained a new stock of merchandise. Somebody broke in and stole his entire supply of 2,600 worms.

Local VFW Sets Western Jamboree

The Henry Page Folsom Jr. Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3331 will hold a Western Jamboree at 8 p. m. on November 14 in the Memorial Hall, E. Main St.

In conjunction with the Jamboree, a local talent contest will be held. Any interested participants are asked to contact VFW Commander Irwin Smith or Public Relations Director Tommy Reeves by phoning GR 4-3666. Smith also may be reached at GR 4-9807.

The deadline for talent to register has been set for November 10. Included in the Jamboree will be professional talent from radio and television.

They are Helen and Billie Scott, Wayne the Rambler and the Mountain Boys and Satana the Great Magician.

Central Ohio Council Taps Portsmouth Man

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — John Irwin of Portsmouth is the new president of the central Ohio Valley Industrial Council a group which seeks to bring more industry into the central Ohio valley. Others elected Wednesday night are Walter Windsor, of Marietta, first vice president, and secretary.

Ross County Lake Project Is Aided

Ross County's long-awaited fishing lake came nearer a reality Wednesday when it was announced that funds were released for purchase of land now under option in Springfield Twp.

It was reported that the State Control Board had released $98,200 for acquisition of land necessary for the lake and its environs.

Approximately 670 acres are involved in the entire tract and the planned lake would cover from 100 to 135 acres, the rest being held as a game preserve.

Probation Data Asked On Elyria Lawyers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal Judge Paul C. Weick wants a probation report on two Elyria brothers, both lawyers, before he sentences them for income tax evasion. The brothers, David P. and Harry W. Hyman, pleaded guilty. Davis, 59, was charged with evasion of $18,415 during 1954 and 1955. During the same period, Harry, 48, was charged with evading $13,953. Judge Weick deferred sentence Wednesday pending a probation report.

Dies at Age of 72 Lucas County Leader

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A longtime Lucas County labor and political leader, John J. Quinlivan, 72, died Wednesday night in St. Vincent's Hospital. He was secretary of Toledo Central Labor Union for 22 years. In 1932 he became a county commissioner and later was Democratic chairman and a member of the board of elections. He also was a member of the Toledo City Council from 1953 to 1955.

Nears Jury Decision Trial of Ex-Policeman

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—The trial of two former East Liverpool policemen on burglary charges is expected to go to the jury today. The men, Robert Carroll and Ira Cunningham, denied in testimony Wednesday that they broke into Smith & Phillips Furniture Store in East Liverpool in 1952. A former special policeman, Dallas Bishop, previously was convicted in the burglary.

State Treasurer Says Ohio Is a $3 Billion Business

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy today described state government as a three-billion-dollar business.

His annual report for the bookkeeping year ended last June 30 showed over-all transactions totaling $2,834,768,591. The sum included highway improvements.

Tracy said the report showed a 73 per cent increase over state business totaling $1,580,252,395 when he took office in 1951.

The 60-page report will go to state and county officials, public libraries and banks throughout the state. It will be available to schools, civic groups and others.

Analysis of the state's financial picture showed all-time high receipts of $1,421,874,934 and record expenditures of $1,412,893,657. The balance of all funds was $366,147,728 at the end of the fiscal year.

General revenue funds for normal state operations showed that spending exceeded revenues by $45,600,552. But a transfer of $17,214,136 in undivided public utilities taxes cut the decrease to $28,386,416. The result was a drop in the general revenue fund balance during the year from $131,350,536 to $102,964,121. The balance included cash and funds encumbered but not spent.

Sales tax collections, the state's largest single sources of revenue, reflected recession inroads. Receipts last year aggregated $227,351,376 against $326,096,469 a year earlier.

Accelerated highway construction accounted for a major share of expenditures. The highway department spent $189,301,068 of its own funds plus $126,105,095 obtained from sale of major throughfare bonds.

Ohio's liquor monopoly produced $39,279,374 from which $21,300,000 was transferred to the general revenue fund as "profit." Gallonage taxes brought in another 18 million dollars.

Other major income from taxes and fees, in approximate millions of dollars, included: gasoline 123 millions, state universities and colleges 45, motor vehicle and driver licenses 74, public utilities 36, cigarettes 34, intangibles 31, insurance 28 and beer, wine and malt 23.

State and custodial funds held on behalf of the four retirement systems and the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation totaled $1,131,960,652. Another $247,385,000 in securities were held to secure deposits.

Bonded indebtedness stood at $487,230,000. That sum included World War II bonus bonds, $78,720,000; major throughfare construction bonds $315,480,000; capital improvement bonds, $34,625,000 and Korean bonus bonds $58,405,000.

Lake Erie Coal Loading Total Tops '57 Figure

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lake Erie Coal ports loaded more bituminous coal during the week ended last Monday than they did in the similar week of 1957. A total of 1,188,805 net tons was loaded into vessels compared with 1,153,005 net tons for the similar week last year. For the season to date, however, a total of 31,753,145 net tons were loaded, a drop of 9,758,445 below a year ago, the ore and coal exchange reported.

East Liverpool Postman Shuns City Income Tax

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) —Rather than pay East Liverpools eight-mill income tax, William F. Azdell said he will go to jail. In a hearing in Municipal Court Wednesday, Azdell, a post office employe, demanded a jury trial on charges he failed to file a declaration of estimated income in 1958. Hearing of the charge was discontinued to Nov. 7.

Local VFW Sets Western Jamboree

The Henry Page Folsom Jr. Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3331 will hold a Western Jamboree at 8 p. m. on November 14 in the Memorial Hall, E. Main St.

In conjunction with the Jamboree, a local talent contest will be held. Any interested participants are asked to contact VFW Commander Irwin Smith or Public Relations Director Tommy Reeves by phoning GR 4-3666. Smith also may be reached at GR 4-9807.

The deadline for talent to register has been set for November 10. Included in the Jamboree will be professional talent from radio and television.

They are Helen and Billie Scott, Wayne the Rambler and the Mountain Boys and Satana the Great Magician.

Fraternity Capers Bring Suspension

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—The Western Michigan University chapter of Delta Upsilon fraternity has been ordered dissolved by Dean of Men J. Towner Smith for a half-time exhibition at last Saturday's homecoming football game with the University of Toledo.

At halftime Saturday, Delta Upsilon members paraded around the stadium track carrying a 25-foot long banner reading "The Drinking 100." Western Michigan's band is known as "The Marching 100."

Smith said "use of the banner cast an unfair cloud, reflection and embarrassment over the university, the student body, the inter-fraternity council, the faculty, the administration and the faculty sponsors."

Davis Is Proud of Record As Faithful CHS Grid Fan

Circleville High School football takes precedence over all other extra curricular activities for Lawrence (Speeder) Davis, 113 W. Water St.

This point is well proven in that Davis has completed 25 consecutive years without missing a CHS grid game, home or away. This record undoubtedly stands head and shoulders above the attendance of any other local football fan.

Davis, proud of his loyal respect for CHS gridders, will record his 26th year of perfect attendance this season. Boosting his record a little further, the Red and Black supporter noted that he has missed only one CHS grid test in 31 years, this due to the death of his father in 1932.

Davis's enviable record started in 1927 on the same field where the present day Circleville Tigers wage gridiron war.

THE POPULAR CHS fan, co-owner of the D & W Market, E. Main St., pointed out that the gridiron in those days was a bare spot of ground without a blade of grass. "Usually it was a case of players being dust covered or mud splattered," depending on the weather, he added.

With a rather disappointing sigh, Davis related that he did not get to play high school football due to work. Perhaps this is one of the reasons why he became such a devout fan.

Looking back over his many years as a fan, Davis explained that he has seen fair, good and extra good Circleville High School teams. After careful study he indicated that the 1948-49-50 seasons probably were the best cycle of football squads during his long span as an observer. He singled out the 1950 team as possibly the most well-balanced crew.

Davis said he would have to name Harold (Sandy) Hill as the best backfield man to perform for CHS. His choice for a lineman was Wilbur (Wib) Adkins.

Hill, an All-Ohio product, starred here in 1948-49-50. Adkins, an all-around linesman who was killed in World War II, played in the early 1930's.

A firm lover of the gridiron game, Davis said he often recalls many fond memories concerning experiences as a fan. In the early days it was difficult to get a ride to games away from home, he added.

PERHAPS his most unusual and best remembered road game was a hitchhike to Washington C. H. one year when the temperature read five above zero. The trip eventually was made on top of a chicken truck.

Another interesting grid trip was a ride to Lancaster in a severe rain storm. Davis said he and his companions had to stop several times to drag trees and limbs from the road.

He noted that the trip was worthwhile in that Circleville held a strong Lancaster 11 to a 0-0 deadlock. However, Davis said he and his group ran into additional trouble when peeved Lancaster fans removed the valve cores from their car's tires.

Football had a special meaning for Davis in the early 1950 seasons for his son, Fred, played halfback for the Tigers during those years.

At present his greatest ambition is to see his young grandson performing on the gridiron as a Circleville Tiger. The youngster already has become a CHS fan.

Davis said he has noted several changes in modern-day and old fashioned football, especially in style and finesse. "The increased and improved padding worn now is a great improvement over the old days," he explained.

HE RELATED that modern teams seem to be more offensive-minded. However, he pointed out that high scoring games were as common years ago as they are today.

The rabid grid spectator said one of his biggest thrills came on seeing Circleville play under lights for the first time. He declared that night games were the greatest improvement on high school football as far as spectators were concerned.

Davis said he is not in favor of the new rule which gives two extra points after touchdowns on runs or passes. "It complicates keeping the score", he laughed.

It has been lots of fun watching Circleville High School football for 31 years, Davis said. "I hope to see more of the same for at least another 25 years", he grinned.

Brennan Cites Notre Dame's Weaknesses

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Maybe coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame's football team should have been taken at his word when he said before the season "we're not as good as everybody thinks we are."

The battered Irish go against Navy at Baltimore Saturday with a 3-2 record. Pegged by many in preseason reckonings as the team to beat, the Irish now are not even among the top 20 in the AP weekly poll.

Even in victory, Notre Dame has had to fuss furiously. It opened with an 18-0 verdict over weak Indiana, but led only 6-0 until the final 7 minutes. They had a close call over Southern Methodist, 14-6, and came from behind to vanquish Duke 9-7.

Army defeated Notre Dame 14-2, but the Irish were mauled by Pistol Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson more than the score indicated. Last Saturday the Irish finished courageously, but still lost to Purdue 29-22.

As for the right bounce of the ball, Notre Dame has fumbled 23 times and lost the ball 13 times in 5 games. For all of last season they had only 28 fumbles and lost the ball 14 times.

Roberts Is Cited For '58 Comeback

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—"I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the Comeback Player of the Year title in the National League.

Roberts got 59 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

Tiger Crew Seeks Comeback Friday

Circleville's crippled Tigers will make an attempt to get back on the victory path when the footballers of Portsmouth East come here Friday night for the final home game of the season.

The Tigers have been blanked in their last two engagements. Greenfield was the culprit on October 10, defeating the locals, 14-0. Franklin Heights came here Friday night to hand CHS an 8-0 loss.

As of yesterday the Tigers were faced with the old injury problem, with halfback Walt Arledge and Arch Ward and quarterback Jim Woods nursing bruised ankles. Unless the ailments heal, all three may be forced to see little or no action Friday night.

Tom Greeno, experienced at both quarterback and end, may be switched back to signal caller. Ray Phifer, Gary Vandemark, and Dave Smith were running at halfbacks, with Larry Hannahs and Dick Bircher appearing fit and ready at fullback.

THE TIGER forward wall seemed to be in good shape with the exception of injured end Leo Moats. Gridders working with the number one and two units included guards Asa Elsea, Roger Wolfe, Dave Huffer and Ernie Lindsey.

Bill Perkins, Dick Gerhardt, Harry Strawser, Dan Leonhardt and Bruce Dresbach were at the tackles and Brent Bell and Joe Rooney performed at center.

Not much is known about Portsmouth East, although reports indicate that the Scioto Countians are capable of playing some rugged football.

In way of comparison the Portsmouth outfit was downed 22-6 by Waverly, a team which was defeated by Greenfield, 8-0. PE registered a 28-16 win over Piketon, the same squad which Ashville blanked, 14-0.

A week from Friday the Tigers travel to Washington C. H. for a duel with the supposedly vaunted Blue Lions.

The Blue Lions are picked as the scourge of the South Central Ohio League, although some of their grand showings have been against woefully weak teams.

THE WCH machine spilled Greenfield 14-6 Friday night, but had its hands full doing it. The McClain gridders dominated all statistics but the score, leading in first downs, yards rushing and yards passing.

Washington has assumed the role of a grid monster before in the long series with Circleville. On several occasions the Tigers proved to be giant killers in such instances. Nothing would be more pleasing to local fans than to see history repeat itself come November 7.

Bob Pettit Shows Old Top Form as St. Louis Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball Assn. it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points Wednesday night to run his total for three games to 91 as the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 112-100 and took over first place in the Western Division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

The former Louisiana State All-America hit on 15 of his 23 field goals attempts and paced the Hawks' fourth-period attack as they turned the game into a rout. The score was all-square at 78 going into the final quarter. Then Pettit made 10 of his 37 points to put the game out of reach of the Lakers.

German Is Tough, But Calhoun Wins

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "This guy is shorter than most. He made it tough for me."

Thus did Rory Calhoun, high ranking middleweight, concede he hadn't looked as sharp as he might Wednesday night in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Germany's Franz Szuzina in their televised fight.

All three officials made the 24-year old minister's son from White Plains, N.Y., the winner by a wide margin but Calhoun wasn't satisfied with his performance.

Referee Joe Palmer, who took the seventh round from Rory because of low blows, scored it 7-2-1. Judge Harold McGrath had Calhoun winning 9-1 and Judge Charles di Salva 8-2. The Associated Press card was 7-3 for Cal-

Browns' Brown Appearing In Foe's 'Huddle' Frequently

CLEVELAND (AP)—"That was Jim Brown!"

The announcer's voice boomed over the public address system, but most of the people in the vast stadium knew without being told. They had watched the opposing team in a huddle moving down the field—the wrong way—and at the center of the huddle was Cleveland's fullback Jim Brown.

But there is more than bulldozing behind Brown's wholesale attack on National Football League statistical records.

He is fast, one of the best sprinters on the squad. Give him a little space and he's off.

What makes Jim Brown go?

The 6-foot-2 former Syracuse star scorns statistics which many cite when they predict he will become one of the greatest stars of professional football. What gives him the greatest satisfaction is not the long touchdown run but "knowing that I played a good game."

Brown in five games has averaged 163 yards per game—more than twice his average last year as a freshman when he led the league in total yards gained rushing. With seven more games to go, he seems to be a cinch—barring injury—to better the record of 1,146 yards Steven Van Buren of Philadelphia set in 1949.

Coach Paul Brown calls Jim the "best draft choice we ever made." Brown points to Jim's muscular physique as part of the answer to the mystery of the fullback's spectacular success.

Statistics don't count to the football player, Jim said.

"I could run 150 yards and look good on Sunday," he added, "but that doesn't mean anything if I come in here on Wednesday and hear him (Coach Paul Brown) saying I missed this assignment or that."

"The thing that makes you proud," Brown continued, "is knowing you did everything right, that you played a whole game without making more than one or two mistakes."

Jim's explanation when asked how he carries enemy players down the field was given with a self-conscious grin:

"They get in each other's way. Besides, there's only so much of me they can get ahold of — it doesn't make any difference how much of them there are."

When Colorado, Oklahoma Meet, Something Must Give

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Colorado, the nation's only major college football team that has gained more than 400 yards a game all season, and Oklahoma, which has rolled in oldtime form for 893 yards in its last two games, collide Saturday at Boulder, Colo. Something's gotta give.

That was the indication today from the weekly NCAA Service Bureau team statistics.

The figures show Colorado's Golden Buffaloes, who have been showing the way in rushing offense for three weeks, also have climbed to the top in total offense, displacing the Army team that was limited to 165 yards by Pittsburgh.

Oklahoma, which dropped out of sight (statistically speaking) after its loss to Texas, has come right back in routing Kansas and Kansas State and now is fourth in total offense and fifth in rushing.

Colorado is second and Oklahoma third in the major scoring race behind Rutgers.

Here's how the comparative statics look:

Rushing — Colorado has averaged 347.2 yards per game to 273.3 yards for runner - up Brigham Young. Oklahoma's fifth place average is 253.6. The Buffs have gained more running yards in five games than any other team has gained in six. BYU, unranked last week, picked up 465 against Montana to move into second place.

Total offense — Colorado, with an average gain of 411.2 yards a game, is the only team above the 400 yard level which at least one major team has reached for the full season every year since 1941. It's Army 385.6 yards, Iowa 383.8 and Oklahoma 382.2 in a close race for second.

Scoring — Rutgers, with 173 points in five games, has an average of 34.6 per game. Colorado has a 31.2 average and Oklahoma 30 even. Other high scoring teams are Houston, 29.3; Syracuse, 28.8; Northwestern, 27.8; Army, 26.8; VMI, 25.3 and Virginia and Tulsa, 25.2.

The inconsistency of forward passers has been one of the season's mysteries and this week saw five new teams in the first ten. Hardin-Simmons held its place as the No. 1 team. The Texans are first in attempts (190), completions (91), yards (979) and gains per game (163.2).

Navy, which made 545 yards and 50 points in a breeze against Penn, moved from 13th to second with a 158-yard average. San Jose State and Holy Cross, now third and fourth, came up from 15th and 18th. Iowa and Wake Forest also joined the top ten.

When Colorado, Oklahoma Meet, Something Must Give

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Colorado, the nation's only major college football team that has gained more than 400 yards a game all season, and Oklahoma, which has rolled in oldtime form for 893 yards in its last two games, collide Saturday at Boulder, Colo. Something's gotta give.

That was the indication today from the weekly NCAA Service Bureau team statistics.

The figures show Colorado's Golden Buffaloes, who have been showing the way in rushing offense for three weeks, also have climbed to the top in total offense, displacing the Army team that was limited to 165 yards by Pittsburgh.

Oklahoma, which dropped out of sight (statistically speaking) after its loss to Texas, has come right back in routing Kansas and Kansas State and now is fourth in total offense and fifth in rushing.

Colorado is second and Oklahoma third in the major scoring race behind Rutgers.

Here's how the comparative statics look:

Rushing — Colorado has averaged 347.2 yards per game to 273.3 yards for runner - up Brigham Young. Oklahoma's fifth place average is 253.6. The Buffs have gained more running yards in five games than any other team has gained in six. BYU, unranked last week, picked up 465 against Montana to move into second place.

Total offense — Colorado, with an average gain of 411.2 yards a game, is the only team above the 400 yard level which at least one major team has reached for the full season every year since 1941. It's Army 385.6 yards, Iowa 383.8 and Oklahoma 382.2 in a close race for second.

Scoring — Rutgers, with 173 points in five games, has an average of 34.6 per game. Colorado has a 31.2 average and Oklahoma 30 even. Other high scoring teams are Houston, 29.3; Syracuse, 28.8; Northwestern, 27.8; Army, 26.8; VMI, 25.3 and Virginia and Tulsa, 25.2.

The inconsistency of forward passers has been one of the season's mysteries and this week saw five new teams in the first ten. Hardin-Simmons held its place as the No. 1 team. The Texans are first in attempts (190), completions (91), yards (979) and gains per game (163.2).

Navy, which made 545 yards and 50 points in a breeze against Penn, moved from 13th to second with a 158-yard average. San Jose State and Holy Cross, now third and fourth, came up from 15th and 18th. Iowa and Wake Forest also joined the top ten.

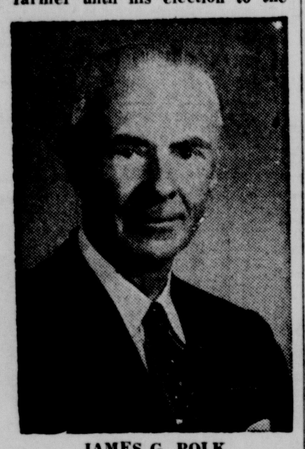
Barrett, Polk Eye House Seat

The race for Congressman from the Sixth Congressional Ohio District pits incumbent running for 11th term of office, James K. Polk, against Elmer S. Barrett. Polk is a Democrat and Barrett is the Republican.

Polk was a Highland County farmer until his election to the



JAMES G. POLK

House of Representatives. He is the only Democrat ever elected from the 6th District.

Polk is a graduate of Ohio State University's Agricultural College and received an M. A. from Wittenberg in 1923. He has eight years experience as a school teacher. He is a member of the House Agricultural Committee.

Barrett, 45, who defeated Josef C. Clark, Chillicothe, in the primary, is head of a consulting engineering firm in Chillicothe. He was educated by Chillicothe Public Schools, Miami University and Ohio State University.

* * *

HE WAS A FORMER Division Engineer for the Ohio Department of Highways, Ross and Highland 'county Engineer, and engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad and U. S. Navy Ordnance Plant.

ELMER S. BARRETT

Barrett is a member of many civic organizations, such as Kiwanis, YMCA and Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce, several engineering societies and fraternal organizations.

Polk is running on his past record as an able administrator and the fact he has always been available to the residents of his district. Barrett makes his bid for office on the basis that Congress needs an engineer as a representative.

Vocational Students Take Kuder Tests

Two courses required of all freshmen at Circleville High School are vocational guidance and health. Each is a one semester subject.

Guidance pupils this first semester have just completed a study of their interests which should be very beneficial to each of them.

As a part of the study each pupil took the Kuder Vocational Preference Record which enables him to classify his vocational interests in various areas. These areas are: artistic, clerical, computational, literary, mechanical, musical, outdoor, persuasive, scientific and social service.

Not only were the students able to classify their interests but they were able to see how their degree of interest in each area compared with that of other boys and girls.

This study concluded with an individual conference with the teacher, Richard Snouffer. Later there will be an individual study of a specific vocation chosen by each student.

At present the class is engaged in a study of personality—its development and importance.

Zehner Named Capital Regent

The Rev. Carl Zehner, minister of the Trinity Lutheran Church recently was elected to the Board of Regents of Capital University, Columbus.

This governing board of Capital will hold its next meeting in December, according to the Rev. Zehner. "e will serve a six-year term on this board of nine ministers and six laymen.

Mr. Zehner was elected at the American Lutheran Church Convention held in San Antonio, Tex., October 16 through 21.

The civic minded minister was graduated by Capital U. in 1939 and was ordained from the Capital University Seminary. He served in Columbus a short time before enlisting as a chaplain in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Since the war, the Rev. Zehner has had parishes in Greenville and Toledo. He arrived here in July 1954, replacing the Rev. George Troutman.

U.S. Business Profits Trail '57 by 25 Pct.

Survey of First 9 Month Shows Pickup Due in Last Quarter

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American business profits are trailing those of last year by 25 per cent with two out of three firms showing declines for the first nine months of 1958.

But the gap slowly but steadily is being narrowed since the grim first three months of the year.

In the first quarter of 1958, the decline from the like period of 1957 was 33 per cent with the industrials off 36 per cent.

At the halfway mark, profits looked a bit better — all business running 32 per cent behind the 1957 figures, with industrials down 35 per cent.

Today a better third quarter for many companies gives the nine-month net profits after taxes of the first 461 companies to report a combined total of $5,603,763,000, compared with $7,517,376,000 for the same companies in 1957, a drop of 25.4 per cent.

Declines were reported by 316. Net losses were reported by 23, compared with 13 in the previous year. Red ink was splashed notably over the reports of the auto industry and the Eastern railroads.

Of the 391 industrial firms reporting so far, 276 declined. Combined profits came to $4,415,504,000, against $6,215,264,000 in 1957, a drop of 28.9 per cent.

Utilities mostly went their steady way, showing a gain of 77. per cent this year over last. The railroads were down by 38.5 per cent.

In many cases the third-quarter reports were notably improved over the April-May-June quarter.

And tomorrow looks brighter. Many corporate executives seem sure that the last three months of the year will bring a profit gain over the third quarter and further narrow the gap, with the total for 1958 being not too far behind that for 1957.

The decline this year is marked in some of the nation's leading industries. With two of the Big Three auto makers operating at a loss, the decline for that industry as a whole was 66 per cent.

Most steelmakers are behind last year and the profit decline at the three-quarter mark of the year is 44 per cent. Business is looking up for them now and they predict a better final quarter.

Coal companies suffered along with steel and are trailing 1957 by 42 per cent. Nonferrous mining and metalworking companies slipped until recent weeks and are 36 per cent below year ago earnings.

Almost all oil companies are making less this year than last, the gap now being 29 per cent.

On the happier side, the office equipment makers, tobacco companies, food and beverage firms, and airlines join the utilities in reporting better profits this year than last. Most drug companies do too, but three of them had declines enough to pull the total for the 11 down by 4 per cent.

Immigrant Found Guilty In Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took two hours and 20 minutes to reach a verdict — guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy. For James I. Milak that meant the electric chair.

The 37-year-old Hungarian immigrant was ruled guilty Wednesday by a three-judge panel of the shooting to death of his former sweetheart, Mrs. Lillian Mikulac, 43, and her husband of four days, Steve, 35.

Their bodies were found in a ravine near Ravenna, 10 days after they disappeared from their Akron home.

Both were shot in the head.

But when the verdict was read he was calm.

Returning the verdict were Common Pleas Judges Stephen C. Colopy, Ray B. Watters and Clande V. D. Emmons.

Milak's court appointed attorneys said they would appeal.

Mother Given 6 Months

Mrs. Lucy Dollison, 39, Route 3, was this morning in Pickaway County Juvenile Court sentenced to six months in the Marysville Reformatory for contributing to the neglect of her five minor children.

Last week, her husband, Ralph, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail for non-support of the children. The five children were placed in the custody of the County Child Welfare Board.

Coleman Hits O'Neill for 'Timidity'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William Coleman says Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill "set a pattern for reversals, indecisiveness and timidity early in his administration which he has been unable to get away from."

In a prepared statement, Coleman said O'Neill is trying to obscure the real issues in the campaign by his charges that Ohio is in danger of being taken over by corrupt "labor bosses."

"I am sure the voters of this stae will not be hookwinked by the illfitting crusaders cloak the governor has so hastely donned," Coleman said. "I am confident Ohioans will recognize the governor's ruse. He is desperately attempting to make the people forget his ho-hum record."

Coleman asserted O'Neill's campaign promises in the current campaign "have been fished out of the pile of unfilfilled commitments he made in 1956 and simply recapped."

Vows Exchanged In Muny Court

Business in Circleville Municipal Court today included the more pleasant aspect of performing a wedding ceremony.

Utilities mostly went their steady way, showing a gain of 77. per cent this year over last. The railroads were down by 38.5 per cent.

In many cases the third-quarter reports were notably improved over the April-May-June quarter.

And tomorrow looks brighter. Many corporate executives seem sure that the last three months of the year will bring a profit gain over the third quarter and further narrow the gap, with the total for 1958 being not too far behind that for 1957.

The decline this year is marked in some of the nation's leading industries. With two of the Big Three auto makers operating at a loss, the decline for that industry as a whole was 66 per cent.

Most steelmakers are behind last year and the profit decline at the three-quarter mark of the year is 44 per cent. Business is looking up for them now and they predict a better final quarter.

Coal companies suffered along with steel and are trailing 1957 by 42 per cent. Nonferrous mining and metalworking companies slipped until recent weeks and are 36 per cent below year ago earnings.

Almost all oil companies are making less this year than last, the gap now being 29 per cent.

On the happier side, the office equipment makers, tobacco companies, food and beverage firms, and airlines join the utilities in reporting better profits this year than last. Most drug companies do too, but three of them had declines enough to pull the total for the 11 down by 4 per cent.

Immigrant Found Guilty In Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took two hours and 20 minutes to reach a verdict — guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy. For James I. Milak that meant the electric chair.

The 37-year-old Hungarian immigrant was ruled guilty Wednesday by a three-judge panel of the shooting to death of his former sweetheart, Mrs. Lillian Mikulac, 43, and her husband of four days, Steve, 35.

Their bodies were found in a ravine near Ravenna, 10 days after they disappeared from their Akron home.

Both were shot in the head.

But when the verdict was read he was calm.

Returning the verdict were Common Pleas Judges Stephen C. Colopy, Ray B. Watters and Clande V. D. Emmons.

Milak's court appointed attorneys said they would appeal.

Mother Given 6 Months

Mrs. Lucy Dollison, 39, Route 3, was this morning in Pickaway County Juvenile Court sentenced to six months in the Marysville Reformatory for contributing to the neglect of her five minor children.

Last week, her husband, Ralph, was sentenced to six months in the County Jail for non-support of the children. The five children were placed in the custody of the County Child Welfare Board.

Coleman Hits O'Neill for 'Timidity'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William Coleman says Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill "set a pattern for reversals, indecisiveness and timidity early in his administration which he has been unable to get away from."

In a prepared statement, Coleman said O'Neill is trying to obscure the real issues in the campaign by his charges that Ohio is in danger of being taken over by corrupt "labor bosses."

"I am sure the voters of this stae will not be hookwinked by the illfitting crusaders cloak the governor has so hastely donned," Coleman said. "I am confident Ohioans will recognize the governor's ruse. He is desperately attempting to make the people forget his ho-hum record."

Coleman asserted O'Neill's campaign promises in the current campaign "have been fished out of the pile of unfilfilled commitments he made in 1956 and simply recapped."

Vows Exchanged In Muny Court

Exchanging vows were Alexander R. Tait, Miami, Fla. and Miss Mauritta Vance, Route 2, Ashville. The rites were read by Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Driver Held for Jury On OMVI Accusation

Eugene W. Congrove, 57, Route 1, Stoutsville, today was held for the Pickaway County Grand Jury on an accusation of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Congrove appeared in Circleville Municipal Court where bond was set at $200. Defense for the accused requested the jury action. The arrest was by city police.

$300 PER PERSON IS FARE ENOUGH—Host Allan Chase, a Bel-Air, Calif., financier, samples one of the nine kinds of wine served the exclusive Beverly Hills Wine and Food society to start off its 1958 "dining season." The wine, nearly all the sumptuous food, the chefs and even the pots and pans were imported from Paris. Cost: $300 per person.
